Circleville Youths Present 240 Science Fair Projects

Circleville residents will have a chance to see their youngsters' abilities in the sciences tonight at the huge Science Fair at Circleville High School.

About 240 entries will be judged by 66 experts in the various science fields.

The exhibits were made by the students. They run from such exhibits as "Space Structure of Hydrocarbons" and "Nuclear Fission" in the high school class, to "Atoms" and "Ants" in the elementary classes.

There will be class projects on display also. The displays will be in the high school social rooms and adjoining rooms.

The public is urged to attend. Doors will open at 7:30 p. m. At 8:30 p. m. awards will be presented to winners in the auditorium by the Kiwanis Club, which supports the event.

STUDENTS with projects are to report to the high school auditorium at 6 p. m. They will then go to their places beside their projects for questioning by the judges. They are to be prepared to answer questions regarding their project.

The judging is expected to last about an hour. Then the students are to return to the auditorium until the doors open to the public at 7:30 p. m.

Each student who enters a project will receive a certificate. Those whose projects get a superior rating will be awarded medals by the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

Students of the seventh and eighth grades whose projects rate superior will be eligible to participate in the District Science Fair at Columbus at a later date.

Here are the judges:

Ohio Farm Income Plunges in 1959

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio farmers have been taking a beating where it hurts—in their pocketbooks. Their average net income dropped 15 per cent in 1959, compared with the preceding year.

The Agriculture Department figures the average Ohio farmer had a net income of $1,812 in 1959.

Generally speaking, this can be compared with the salary of an office clerk or mill worker in town. In other words, out of this he pays taxes, living expenses and all the rest.

Most farmers with such low incomes have to find a second job in town.

As to what happened to the Ohio farmer in 1959, the Agriculture Department sums it up this way: "Substantial declines were registered in receipts from hogs, wheat and eggs. These were only partially offset by increases in receipts from corn.

"Production expenses were up slightly because of increases in depreciation, repair and operation of capital items and fertilizer and lime."

All this naturally, is of concern to the Ohio Farm Bureau, an organization of rich and poor farmers alike.

So next week, March 14-16, a delegation of 40 Ohio Farm Bureau members will make their annual trip to Washington to see their congressmen and Agriculture Department officials.

"We plan to discuss a proposed doubling of the present conservation reserve program, which the Farm Bureau supports," says Ferris Owen of Newark, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

"This issue will be the major farm program proposal in Congress this year."

Some Democrats in Congress are opposing doubling this program, an arrangement whereby farmers take land out of production in return for cash payments. These opponents say it favors the wealthy farmer with lots of land to spare.

Other issues the Ohioans will discuss are (1) a "sensible" wheat program, (2) whether to tax co-operatives, and (3) federal aid to education, opposed by the Ohio Farm Bureau.

The Farm Bureau figures that the drop in farm income may bring forth an attempt for a more workable farm program in this election year.

Democrats on the agriculture committees of Congress are inclined to agree. But it is highly doubtful their proposal for more controls would arouse anything but stiff opposition from the Farm Bureau.

Something, nevertheless, may come out of this Congress for the farmer, even if it's a bill that President Eisenhower is sure to veto.

FBI Captures Ohioan Wounded by Police

DETROIT (AP)—Frank (Tony) Skrabka, 34, of Rittman, Ohio, was captured by the FBI Thursday, still carrying two slugs in his shoulder from police bullets.

He was arraigned in Federal Court on a charge of fleeing across a state line to avoid lawful prosecution. Skrabka was wounded March 4, when police surprised him and another man after they had broken into a dairy store in Mogadore, Ohio.

Commissioners Don't Agree To County Vote Registration

A misunderstanding between the Pickaway County Commissioners and the County Board of Elections eliminates county-wide voting registration for the present.

Monday, three members of the election board informed the commissioners of their desire to have registration and stated the advantages in it.

The election board left the commissioners with the impression that two of the commissioners were in favor of registration and would try to help out the board in supplying adequate funds to conduct it.

Election board members retired to their office and again officially approved registration, believing that the commissioners would come through with the money.

Tuesday, an election board spokesman asked the commissioners to make a motion to supply the election board with funds for registration. The measure died for a lack of a motion at that time.

COMMISSION chairman, Clyde E. Michel, said today that the election board misunderstood. He stated that the commissioners said they would try and help out, but didn't officially promise the board funds.

He said he is not opposed to registration, but declined to elaborate on the matter. Michel said the election board related that it feels Circleville will reach 16,000 population in the 1960 federal census, at which time state law will require registration for the city.

Michel said they checked the 1950 census and found only 8,000 residents here and didn't feel the city has doubled its population in 10 years.

An election board spokesman today related the board's reasons behind wanting registration now. He said board members felt the city would reach 16,000 population in the 1960 census and it would be unfair to conduct the initial registration in an off-year election.

He said the largest voter turnout would be experienced this year and registration should be started now. Other reasons given were:

Harrison Twp. is experiencing much difficulty in establishing the legal residency of its voters due to the many trailer courts and transients employed at Lockbourne Air Force Base and North American, Columbus.

He said it is the election board's obligation to correct situations of fraud, which are and have been going on in the county for years.

He said registration would correct this situation by being able to pinpoint all voters. The spokesman said this would be a good year for registration because of the many candidates running who would see that as many people registered as possible.

"ALL SURROUNDING counties except Fayette have county-wide registration," the spokesman said. "Although registration will be a lot more work on the election board, it feels it is necessary and is willing to undergo the project," the spokesman related.

He said the election board didn't have to go to the commissioners, but felt they should be told and asked for board cooperation.

According to state law, an election board may include a request in its budget for registration. If it is refused by the county's governing body, then the board may make application to the Common Pleas Court to order the commissioners to supply necessary funds.

The local commissioners turned down the election board's 1960 budget request for an allotment for registration. It has been estimated that registration would cost approximately $12,000 or $1 per voter.

The Common Pleas Court would determine if the commissioners had adequate general funds to allot money for registration. If it found the funds available it would order the com-

Broncos Poised For Cage Laurels

Pickaway County's chances of advancing in state basketball tournament play are in good hands as the Ashville Broncos stand poised to battle Radnor tonight.

The Pickaway County League and Tournament champs will meet Delaware County's league and tournament titlists, Radnor, at 8:30 p. m. in the State Fairgrounds' Coliseum, Columbus.

The scene is the finals of the Central District Class "A" cage tourney. In the other district tilt, Granville (23-0) faces Mt. Gilead (18-5) at 7 p. m.

The two winners will journey onward to regional play next weekend. One team will enter the regional at Troy and the other will travel to the Athens regional.

SELECTION of who goes where is based on distance as the crowd flies. If Granville, the favorite, wins tonight, it will go to Athens, Ashville, if a winner, journeys to Troy.

If Gilead is victorious, which is doubtful since two of its defeats were at the hands of Granville, Ashville will enter the Athens regional if victory is accomplished tonight.

The Broncos are primed. They held a short 1½-hour practice last night because, in the words of Coach Russell Gregg, "If they aren't ready now they never will be."

Gregg gave his charges a run-down on Radnor and had his second five run plays similar to those used by Radnor.

One new development was the promotion of Dale Fout (4.1) to a starting berth in place of the slumping Gary Gaines (9.8) at forward.

Other starters will be Center Bobby Hoover (20.9), Forward, Tom Rathburn (16.6) and Guards Dickie Hollenback (9.3) and Jimmy Gregg (5.5).

RADNOR is a possession type club which tries to work the ball in before shooting, taking few long shots. This type offense is nothing new to Ashville.

The Broncos will use a man-to-man defense with the following assignments: Hoover will guard 6' 5" center, Doug Firstenberger, a fade-away jump shooter who operates close to the bucket;

Rathburn will eye Bobby James, a 6' 1" guard who is considered Radnor's top shot and play-maker; Hollenback will be set to watch guard, Goodin; Gregg will be on Waddell and Fout will check Garrison.

The Broncos figure on leaving Ashville at 6 p. m. in time to watch the Granville-Mt. Gilead opener. A capacity crowd is expected if the weather holds clear.

To date, there hasn't been a good night for traveling, but once that happens, the many anxious area fans will probably swarm to the coliseum, which can hold nearly 9,000 persons.

Gregg said yesterday that Ashville's contest with Darby in the district semifinals Wednesday was the first time in the county's history that two area squads met that far along in tournament play.

ACCORDING to Ashville principal, C. E. MaHaffey, Bronco students were calm, cool and collected at school Thursday after Ashville's narrow and exciting 59-54 win over Darby Wednesday night. Bronco pupils are old hands at Ashville bringing home pressure victories and titles. But you better believe the little Harrison Twp. community is building up its enthusiasm to a fever pitch.

Ike Claims Postage Hike Is 'Urgent'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today sent an urgent special message to Congress calling for an increase in first-class mail rates to 5 cents an ounce as part of a 500 million dollar postal rate boost.

Air mail rates would rise from 7 to 8 cents an ounce and postcards from 3 to 4 cents under legislation to be submitted soon by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

Second class mail, mostly newspapers and magazines, would take a 40 per cent boost in rates, and rates on third class mail, mostly advertising matter and small packages, would go up an average of 25 per cent.

The President said it is imperative that Congress act to put the Post Office on a self-supporting basis, by wiping out deficits which he said "have increased astronomically" since World War II.

The postal rate increase has been counted into Eisenhower's budget request for the fiscal year 1961, starting next July 1, and failure of Congress to act would reduce the budget's estimated $4,200,000,000 surplus.

Congressional sources have indicated however, that the legislation has little chance of enactment in this election year. First-class rates rose from 3 cents an ounce to 4 cents last year.

'Venus Probe' To Radio Back Vital Data

90-Pound Messenger To Make First Solar Swing in 5 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States launched a new space probe toward an orbit around the sun between the paths of earth and Venus today. Three hours later scientists reported success.

The beachball-sized package of instruments was launched at 5 a. m. EST from the missile test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., propelled by the 165,000-pound thrust of a three-stage Thor-Able rocket.

After evaluation of early data radioed back from the 26-inch instrument-packed sphere, scientists of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it had achieved sufficient velocity to escape the earth's gravitational pull and had entered an orbit that will take it 74,700,000 miles from the sun at its nearest approach.

The 90-pound probe, called Pioneer V, is designed to explore space between Venus and the earth and to test the feasibility of communicating with future manned and unmanned space vehicles at distances up to 50 million miles.

NASA officials announced shortly after 11 a. m. that the probe had been freed from its carrier rocket at a velocity of 24,859 miles per hour, and that this exceeded by 575 miles an hour the speed necessary to place the space messenger in orbit around the sun. It was within 150 miles per hour of the planned velocity.

They said the pathway of the space probe would take it 18 million miles closer to the sun than the orbit of Venus, and that it would reach its closest approach to the sun in its first swing around the sun about five months from today.

The plan had been to put the probe within 67 million miles of the sun at its nearest approach. Weighing 90 pounds, the payload—called Pioneer V—is designed to make the most exhaustive study of space ever attempted. It would conduct research (Continued on Page 2)

Last Civil War Vet's Daughter Now Destitute

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A daughter of the late Walter Williams, last veteran of the Civil War, disclosed Thursday she is ill and destitute.

She is Willie Mae Bowles, 52. Her father, 117, died Dec. 19 ending four years of attendance at his bedside for her.

Mrs. Bowles said a utility company sent her a final notice and plans to turn off the gas and "I'll probably be getting notices from the other utilities any day."

She came home Tuesday after spending 10 days in a hospital following an operation. She lives alone and said she has no income.

"Daddy got two pensions, one from the federal government for $135 a month and one from the state for $300. I thought I would get part of the state money through the 19th, but I didn't. It stopped when he died," she said.

County welfare workers said they would look into the case.

Ross, Temple Applicants for Chief Exam

Police Sgts. Turney Ross and Robert Temple have taken applications for an examination to determine Circleville's new police chief.

The examination will be held April 11, starting at 7 p. m. in the city hall council chambers. The test will name a chief to succeed Elmer H. Merriman who died last week following a stroke.

The examination for chief will be held along with an exam for a patrolman to fill an eligible list. Four persons have taken applications for the patrolman post.

All applications, available at the Municipal Court office, must be returned not later than 4 p. m. April 7.

Applicants for patrolman must be resident voters of Pickaway County and between the ages of 21 and 31. They must be in good physical condition and meet physical requirements in height and weight.

STARTING salary for a patrolman is $304.95 per month. The pay increases to $334.91 after one year's service. The job includes two weeks vacation with pay, two weeks sick leave with pay and retirement benefits.

Further information on the applications may be obtained from members of the Municipal Civil Service Commission. They are Tom A. Renick, chairman, Luther Bower, vice chairman, and V. L. Hawkes, secretary.

Sgts. Ross and Temple will take promotional examinations according to civil service regulations by which the City Police Department is governed.

According to civil service rules as applied in the local situation, only sergeants are eligible to take the test since two sergeants made application. If only one sergeant had applied, then officers in the next rank to sergeant would have been qualified.

Blind Girl, 17, Is Heroine in School Fire

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Blind, 17-year-old Theresa Hayes was anxious that her parents know she did not fail in the performance of her duty.

That's why the slim blonde stayed at her braille-equipped switchboard Thursday, risking her life to help save 329 students at the Overbrook School for the Blind when a fire swept the main building.

"I thought it was my duty to stay at the switchboard to bring as much help as I could reach to help the nurses rescue the children," she said as she shrugged off acclaim as a heroine.

All of the students were led to safety but Fire Lt. William Agdie, 42, was killed fighting the blaze. Six other firemen were injured.

"I smelled the smoke," explained Theresa, "but it didn't bother me. I thought it was my duty to stay at the switchboard. I heard a big bang and the sound of breaking glass and some firemen shouted at me to get away from the switchboard. I had no feeling of danger and stayed there until someone pulled off my headset and drew me from my chair."

"Then a matron who was leading some students by the board took hold of my hand and directed me out the main entrance."

Joseph G. Cauffman, principal of the school, said the fire started in the third-floor bedroom of one of the employees who had been smoking.

Final Bidding Slated on New Lebanon Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Contractors will be invited to bid next week on the third and final phase of the new correctional institution at Lebanon.

Officials say it should be ready by the fall of 1961. Construction of the six cell blocks, two acres of workshops, gymnasium and laundry in the five-million-dollar third phase, probably will begin in May. Corrections Commissioner Maury C. Koblenz said.

In the meantime, the Division of Corrections will begin transferring prisoners from Mansfield Reformatory to the new medium security prison between April 15 and May 1.

Koblenz said the number transferred at this time will depend on the number of jobs that can be found for inmates to do.

By summer, he said, 500-600 Mansfield inmates will have been transferred to Lebanon. Lebanon inmates probably will take over the job of making Ohio license plates for cars and boats.

About 150 honor inmates from Mansfield already have been transferred to the honor farm. The last 20-25 to be transferred will be taken to the farm this month, Koblenz said. The idea is to relieve overcrowding at Mansfield.

2 More Found Alive in Debris

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Two more emaciated survivors of the Agadir earthquake were pulled from the ruins early today. This brought to 15 the number saved since Tuesday.

Officials at the headquarters of Crown Prince Moulay Hassan identified those found today as mi-moun Kalfon and Mohammed ben Abdallah.

Kalfon, a Jew, is the father of three children dug out of the rubble Thursday. He told rescuers his wife had died beside him in their ruined home an hour after the March 1 earthquake. His 2-year-old daughter died 36 hours after the quake.

Mild Weather Due 'in Ohio

That New Blizzard Not Expected Here

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ah, this is more like it. Clear skies, temperatures near 30 degrees, clearing roads. Ohio is getting back into shape after Wednesday's bout with a blizzard.

And, more good news, The Weather Bureau says the state probably won't get much of that new blizzard rolling out of Oklahoma.

Thursday's temperatures were the highest recorded in several weeks. Columbus had 32, highest since Feb. 25. Canton reported 29 and in Cincinnati, hardest hit by the last blizzard, the mercury rose into the low 30's.

Overnight, however, winter swung another Sunday punch at northern Ohio. The mercury at Cleveland sagged to a record three below zero, the lowest March 11 reading on record there and, by one degree, the coldest day of the winter.

Meanwhile, in the snowbound mountain regions of northwest North Carolina, the Army, National Guard and the Red Cross joined forces to effect the rescue of and give relief to more than 500 marooned families. Snow depths were 2-3 feet, with drifts up to 35 feet, in four counties hit hard by earlier storms. More snow was in sight.

The fresh late winter storm, erupting in the western Plains, dumped 2 to 4 inches of snow from the eastern Dakotas and Minnesota southward through the Lower Mississippi Valley before shifting slowly eastward.

The recent heavy snowfalls and continued cold weather have left a heavy snow blanket in the north central region. The covering in Omaha was two feet and more than a foot in most of Iowa and Missouri.

Snow fell as far south as northern Arkansas before spreading northward into the Lower Ohio Valley.

Heaviest falls were in southeast Missouri, extreme southern Illinois and extreme western Kentucky and Tennessee. Most of the areas still were digging out from the previous storm, one of the most severe in years in some sections and Kentucky's worst in history.

Helicopter Fans Snow Off Airport Runways

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Allegheny County Airport officials have a new way of clearing snow off runways.

Airport Manager Martin Griffin said Thursday the breeze from the whirling blades of a helicopter blew about an inch of snow off the airport's mile-long runway in about 15 minutes. The twin-blade Army helicopter flew up and down about two feet off the runway.

'Venus Probe' To Radio Back Vital Data

90-Pound Messenger To Make First Solar Swing in 5 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States launched a new space probe toward an orbit around the sun between the paths of earth and Venus today. Three hours later scientists reported success.

The beachball-sized package of instruments was launched at 8 a. m. EST from the missile test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., propelled by the 165,000-pound thrust of a three-stage Thor-Able rocket.

NASA officials announced shortly after 11 a. m. that the probe had been freed from its carrier rocket at a velocity of 24,869 miles per hour, and that this exceeded by 575 miles an hour the speed necessary to place the space messenger in orbit around the sun. It was within 150 miles per hour of the planned velocity.

They said the pathway of the space probe would take it 18 million miles closer to the sun than the orbit of Venus, and that it would reach its closest approach to the sun in its first swing around the sun about five months from today.

The plan had been to put the probe within 67 million miles of the sun at its nearest approach. Weighing 90 pounds, the payload—called Pioneer V—is designed to make the most exhaustive study of space ever attempted. It would conduct research

Ross, Temple Applicants for Chief Exam

Police Sgts. Turney Ross and Robert Temple have taken applications for an examination to determine Circleville's new police chief.

The examination will be held April 11, starting at 7 p. m. in the city hall council chambers. The test will name a chief to succeed Elmer H. Merriman who died last week following a stroke.

The examination for chief will be held along with an exam for a patrolman to fill an eligible list. Four persons have taken applications for the patrolman post.

All applications, available at the Municipal Court office, must be returned not later than 4 p. m. April 7.

Applicants for patrolman must be resident voters of Pickaway County and between the ages of 21 and 31. They must be in good physical condition and meet physical requirements in height and weight.

STARTING salary for a patrolman is $304.95 per month. The pay increases to $334.91 after one year's service. The job includes two weeks vacation with pay, two weeks sick leave with pay and retirement benefits.

Further information on the applications may be obtained from members of the Municipal Civil Service Commission. They are Tom A. Renick, chairman, Luther Bower, vice chairman, and V. L. Hawkes, secretary.

Sgts. Ross and Temple will take promotional examinations according to civil service regulations by which the City Police Department is governed.

According to civil service rules as applied in the local situation, only sergeants are eligible to take the test since two sergeants made application. If only one sergeant had applied, then officers in the next rank to sergeant would have been qualified.

while whirling around the sun, alternately touching the orbital paths of the earth and Venus. Driven by the 165,000 pounds of thrust generated by its liquid-fuel engine, the 90 foot Thor-Able rose smoothly from its pad.

After about 40 seconds it arched high in the sky and darted in and out of several low-hanging clouds as it streaked toward the southeast. The launching was scheduled for Thursday but was postponed 24 hours because of fueling difficulties. The count proceeded perfectly today, and the rocket lifted off right on schedule.

The instruments aboard were designed to relay findings back to earth through a powerful radio transmitter capable of sending signals from 50 million miles in space. This is more than 100 times the range of any previous space messenger, American or Soviet, and could pave the way for future interplanetary communication.

Instruments in the package were to measure radiation, gases, magnetic fields, micrometeorite and temperatures in the far reaches of the solar system. This data is required before man can make long trips into space.

Although today's shot has been widely called a "Venus probe," it would not come within several million miles of that planet in the foreseeable future. However, it was designed to explore conditions in the orbital path of Venus.

Once outside the atmosphere, the 26-inch, beachball-size payload would be attracted by the more powerful gravitational field of the sun and drawn toward a solar orbit.

It would swing counter-clockwise about the sun like the planets and in effect, become a man-made planetoid.

Its orbital path would fall between the paths of earth and Venus.

On the planned course, the probe would take about four months to reach the orbit of Venus and about 295 days to make one circle of the sun. Its orbital path would measure 506 million miles.

In comparison, the earth traces a 584-million-mile path about the sun in about 365 days, and Venus covers 422 million miles in a 225-day year.

The probe's aphelion or greatest distance from the sun, would be about 92 million miles. The perihelion or closest distance, about 66 million miles.

James Boys Predominate In Local Municipal Court

Strange things were happening in Circleville Municipal Court today.

The strange events started with a motorist named James M. Strange, 39, Toledo, arrested last night for speeding. He is slated to appear at a later date for hearing, but his name seemed to start the ball rolling for some unusual and coincidental happenings.

The first name of James predominated today. Four drivers named James were on the docket. In addition to Strange, they were James A. Gilliam, 27, Lucasville, James A. Arnett, 35, Marysville, and James Nungester, 40, of 1313 South St.

Three of the Jameses were arrested by a James — James Cooper of the State Highway Patrol that is. The other James was brought in by city police.

GILLIAM and Arnett were cited by Patrolman Cooper for driving under the influence of intoxicants. Each was fined $150 and costs and had his driver's license suspended for six months. Gilliam was sentenced to five days in jail and Arnett three.

James Nungester was brought in by police to face his second conviction of driving under the influence. He was fined $250 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Norris Johnson, 28, Detroit, Mich., riding in the same car with James Gilliam, was fined $50 and costs for intoxication.

Patrolman Cooper arrested Gilliam and Johnson on Route 23 near South Bloomfield while they were in the process of driving north in a southbound lane of traffic.

A truck driver who stopped while the arrest was in progress said Gilliam and Johnson's car forced him off the road near Chillicothe. The driver said the two men offered him a can of beer when he pulled up beside of their auto at a stop light in an attempt to warn them to be careful.

Cooper said he found several open cans of beer after stopping the men's car. The truck driver said

The election board had planned to throw open all 45 county precincts in August for registration. Anyone not registering then could do so at the board office until 40 days before the fall election. A person not registering would be entitled to vote in the November 1 election.

Those close to the political scene say the Democrats are afraid registration will reduce the party's majority here.

They state the Democrats poll heavily in the city and county's lower income areas and feel these residents would not be inclined to register as readily as the Republican strongholds in the higher income brackets.

Two Local Youths Sentenced to BIS

Two Circleville youths were committed to the Boys Industrial School, Lancaster, yesterday by order of the Pickaway County Juvenile Court.

The two youths, ages 15 and 17, were committed for juvenile delinquency. Another youth, age 15, was placed on probation until he reaches 18.

The youths were implicated in the theft of a power saw, valued at $24, in December, 1959. In January their commitments to the BIS were deferred until further investigation was made.

The 17-year-old refused to follow terms of his probation and the 15-year-old violated his probation, leaving the court no alternative.

The instruments aboard were designed to relay findings back to earth through a powerful radio transmitter capable of sending signals from 50 million miles in space. This is more than 100 times the range of any previous space messenger, American or Soviet, and could pave the way for future interplanetary communication.

Instruments in the package were to measure radiation, gases, magnetic fields, micrometeorite and temperatures in the far reaches of the solar system. This data is required before man can make long trips into space.

Although today's shot has been widely called a "Venus probe," it would not come within several million miles of that planet in the foreseeable future. However, it was designed to explore conditions in the orbital path of Venus.

Once outside the atmosphere, the 26-inch, beachball-size payload would be attracted by the more powerful gravitational field of the sun and drawn toward a solar orbit.

It would swing counter-clockwise about the sun like the planets and in effect, become a man-made planetoid.

Its orbital path would fall between the paths of earth and Venus.

On the planned course, the probe would take about four months to reach the orbit of Venus and about 295 days to make one circle of the sun. Its orbital path would measure 506 million miles.

In comparison, the earth traces a 584-million-mile path about the sun in about 365 days, and Venus covers 422 million miles in a 225-day year.

The probe's aphelion or greatest distance from the sun, would be about 97 million miles. The perihelion or closest distance, about 66 million miles.

James Boys Predominate In Local Municipal Court

Strange things were happening in Circleville Municipal Court today.

The strange events started with a motorist named James M. Strange, 39, Toledo, arrested last night for speeding. He is slated to appear at a later date for hearing, but his name seemed to start the ball rolling for some unusual and coincidental happenings.

The first name of James predominated today. Four drivers named James were on the docket. In addition to Strange, they were James A. Gilliam, 27, Lucasville, James A. Arnett, 35, Marysville, and James Nungester, 40, of 1313 South St.

Three of the James were arrested by a James - James Cooper of the State Highway Patrol that is. The other James was brought in by city police.

GILLIAM and Arnett were cited by Patrolman Cooper for driving under the influence of intoxicants. Each was fined $150 and costs and had his driver's license suspended for six months. Gilliam was sentenced to five days in jail and Arnett three.

James Nungester was brought in by police to face his second conviction of driving under the influence. He was fined $250 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Norris Johnson, 28, Detroit, Mich., riding in the same car with James Gilliam, was fined $50 and costs for intoxication.

Patrolman Cooper arrested Gilliam and Johnson on Route 23 near South Bloomfield while they were in the process of driving north in a southbound lane of traffic.

A truck driver who stopped while the arrest was in progress said Gilliam and Johnson's car forced him off the road near Chillicothe.

The driver said the two men offered him a can of beer when he pulled up beside of their auto at a stop light in an attempt to warn them to be careful.

Cooper said he found several open cans of beer after stopping the men's car. The truck driver said missioners to supply the election with funds.

The election board had planned to throw open all 45 county precincts in August for registration. Anyone not registering then could do so at the board office until 40 days before the fall election. A person not registering would be entitled to vote in the November 1 election.

Those close to the political scene say the Democrats are afraid registration will reduce the party's majority here.

They state the Democrats poll heavily in the city and county's lower income areas and feel these residents would not be inclined to register as readily as the Republican strongholds in the higher income brackets.

AFTER getting all the James boys straightened out, Judge Sterling M. Lamb and his assistants went on to make disposition on two waiver cases filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Leland P. Garraabrant, 41, Columbus, was fined $10 and costs for speeding at 70 miles per hour and Lawrence P. Coughlin, 18, Old Tappan, N. J., was fined $10 and costs for speeding at 60 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

It turned out to be quite a day for the local judiciary. All hearings were held in the judge's private chambers in that the courtroom was undergoing repairs.

Judge Lamb vacated his regular location to allow workers to start the job of installing new carpeting in the courtroom.

Playing Stock Market Can Be Costly Sport

Amateurs Advised To Rely on Pros Before Plunging

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—If you buy or sell stock indiscriminately on the sale basis of the rise or fall in any index of stock price averages, you're quite likely to get stung.

The index is a good tool, especially when in the hands of professionals, for finding out which way the market as a whole may be headed. But that's just one of many things you should know when you're in the stock market. Playing the averages can be a dangerous sport for amateur investors, whose numbers have multiplied in recent years.

Even the stocks in the index itself aren't always all moving in the same direction, and rarely at the same pace. Whole industries may be suffering a bear market in their stocks for months while the index continues to climb to new highs.

Brokers will tell you: If you're using an index to check on general trends, okay. Over a period of time—not just day by day ups and downs—it usually does that job well. But don't use an index to decide if you should sell a certain stock or buy one, get out of one industry's stocks or into another. Find out about the company's performance and prospects first, about the outlook for the industry.

The most popular indexes include Dow-Jones 30-stock industrial; Associated Press 60-stock average—30 industrials, 15 rails, 15 utilities; and Standard & Poor's 500 common stocks, whose average is figured several times a day by an electric computer and compared with past performances to check trends.

On most days the changes recorded by leading indexes are remarkably close together.

Even as a tool, the stock-average index has come under attack of late. Some think it tends to distort trends because index-point changes are so much higher than actual dollar changes and because stocks that haven't been split carry more weight in an index—due to their high price—than stocks that have been split. They say this is the case even after attempts to correct for the splits by changing the divisors.

This practice of dividing by a small figure rather than by the total number of stocks in the index has pushed some index averages many times above the actual dollar average of the stocks today.

Also, an index is made up of long-time market leaders, but sometimes these blue chips aren't moving at all, and all the market activity is in glamorous newcomers.

Probably the most radical suggestion for change is that the Dow-Jones index itself be split 10-1. Instead of being around 600 points, the average then would be around

St. Patrick's Day Slated For Notice on Television

NEW YORK (AP) — The approaching holiday is, of course, St. Patrick's Day next Thursday, and television is not a medium to ignore the event. A number of shows will honor the day — Ed Sullivan and the "Be Our Guest" people at CBS and Pat Boone at ABC, for prime examples.

In addition, the next seven days of viewing promises wide variety, ranging from a repeat of the fine "Life in the Thirties" on NBC's Sunday Showcase to the premiere of a new CBS series, "Manhattan."

"Manhattan" kicks off belatedly tonight (9 p.m. Eastern Standard Time) with a drama about a death pledge. On NBC there is the Telephone Hour (8:30-9:30 p.m.) for the music lovers, with Howard Keel, Roger Williams and the American Ballet Theatre.

NBC's World Wide 60 Friday night (9:30-10:30) takes a look at "The Shape of Things" meaning modern architecture. Sunday is notable for another concert by Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic (CBS, 4:30-5:30 p.m.). Ed Sullivan's St. Patrick's show—with all Irish performers, of course—is on CBS at the same time as the repeat of "Life in the Thirties" on NBC (8-9 p.m.).

Monday night finds Herbert Marshall in one of his increasingly rare TV appearances — on ABC's "Adventures in Paradise" (9:30-10:30 p.m.). Tuesday a packet of stars will perform in the NBC Startime Musical "Academy Award Songs" (8:30-9:30) followed by the Arthur Murray "roast" of Bob Hope on the same network.

Bing Crosby returns Perry Como's recent visit on NBC (9-10) Wednesday night. On Thursday (ABC, 9 p.m.) there is Pat Boone's tribute to the Irish saint.

High Court Backs Woman In Accident

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has let stand Montgomery County court decisions in an accident case which started when a woman swerved her car to avoid hitting a dog.

The action denies damages to truck owner Robert P. Johnson and his driver, Herbert Cornett, from Mrs. Ingeborg Tuttle Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson said she stopped to avoid hitting the dog in Centerville, south of Dayton. Cornett, approaching from the opposite direction, said he could not avoid hitting the Jackson car, partially left of the center line.

Lower courts held Mrs. Jackson was not guilty of negligence. The high court also let stand Athens County decisions favoring Conrad A. White in a damage suit by Ora O. Ashcraft following collision of Ashcraft's car and a truck operated by White on U.S. 50 east of Athens in 1956.

In other action the court:

In a series of 6-0 decisions, held that several out-of-state trucking firms need not pay Ohio axle taxes on their big trucks under reciprocity agreements cancelled in 1955.

State tax officials said they would have to study the decisions before determining whether they applied to similar tax assessments against other truckers.

4-H Project Family Affair

4-H club work is a family affair. Many 4-H members succeed without family assistance, but most need the help of their parents.

You, as a parent, can help your boy or girl by helping them decide on a project and then obtaining the necessary materials or animals. You will want to see that your child gets to all 4-H club meetings, and that he can participate in some county 4-H activities.

Your child will need some help in working with his project and in keeping records. Yes, your help will make a better club member and future citizen of your son or daughter.

You as a parent will gain from 4-H club work by: seeing your child succeed, having an activity in which both you and your child can participate, learning new ideas from your child, and by meeting new friends through 4-H.

Have you helped your son or daughter enrolled in 4-H club work? Do so this week if you have not already. National 4-H Club Week is the time. More assistance can be secured at the County Extension Office, 159½ E. Main St., in Circleville.

Many benefits may be derived from 4-H club work. Perhaps the most important benefits of 4-H are fellowship, fun and learning.

In the Home Economics phase of 4-H club work, girls learn to work together, they make many friends, and they learn to do many things through their Home Economics projects.

There is a wide variety of projects from which the girls may choose. There are projects for both the beginner and advanced members of 4-H in most of the project areas. The project areas include: sewing; food preparation; management in cleaning, laundry and decorating; first aid; entertaining; personality; child care; and flower gardening.

The satisfaction a girl receives from completing her project and knowing that she did her best is a very worthwhile reward for the work that she does in 4-H.

4-H is not all project work. 4-H clubs carry on many activities throughout their club year. These activities include: educational tours; community projects; picnics and parties; and achievement meetings.

4-H has a well rounded program and aids in developing a well rounded person.

Also, the David L. Babson & Co., investment counsel of Boston, notes that a 10-1 split would cut the average earnings figure from around $40 per share, to $4, a good deal closer to reality.

One of the biggest tools the complete information on the present index gives the professional, the Babson company says, is its long record of prices, earnings and dividends, adjusted to splits and stock dividends.

Dow-Jones index points, for example, have ranged from a 1935-39 average earnings of 8.60, dividends 6.29, to a 1953-59 average earnings of 33.63, dividends 21.38.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudiness spread into the west and south sections during the night. Elsewhere clear weather prevailed.

Under the clear skies in the east, record-breaking low temperatures were reported. Canton had 1 below zero, New Philadelphia 2 below and Cleveland 3 below.

Higher temperatures were reported elsewhere. Columbus had 14 and Cincinnati 20.

On this morning's weather map, high pressure is centered over the upper Great Lakes and low pressure over Mississippi. Most of Ohio will be under the influence of the high pressure except for the extreme south portion. Clouds associated with the low pressure will spread over the south portion today and there is a chance of light snow in the extreme south.

Sunny skies are expected over the northern section, with partly cloudy weather elsewhere.

Temperatures will continue well below seasonal norms.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average 8 to 12 degrees below normal. Normal high 44 north to 49 south, normal low 27 - 30. Little temperature change during the period. Precipitation will total one-third to one-half inch in snow about Monday and early Tuesday.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Ann Rutledge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rutledge of London and Mr. George Otto Albrecht was performed in the First Methodist Church at 3:30.

Mrs. Dowler and the Lemleys were also present at the reception which followed immediately after the ceremony.

M. M. C. Melvin Loyd Dresbach, Mrs. Dresbach and their young son Michael, came on Thursday to visit until Tuesday with Mr. Dresbach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Dresbach Sr.

Melvin is stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Station Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Raymond Davis went to Harbor Hills last Tuesday to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Korst. On Wednesday, they drove to Hubbard, Ohio for the birthday celebration of the Korst's daughter, Mrs. Matthew Smith.

Mrs. Korst accompanied her sister home on Saturday and another sister, Mrs. Thomas Simons of Toledo, came to spend Sunday with them.

Mrs. Harry Sims has again been called to the bedside of her niece, Mrs. Doris Curry at Chatterbox West Virginia.

4-H Project Family Affair

4-H club work is a family affair. Many 4-H members succeed without family assistance, but most need the help of their parents.

You, as a parent, can help your boy or girl by helping them decide on a project and then obtaining the necessary materials or animals. You will want to see that your child gets to all 4-H club meetings, and that he can participate in some county 4-H activities.

Your child will need some help in working with his project and in keeping records. Yes, your help will make a better club member and future citizen of your son or daughter.

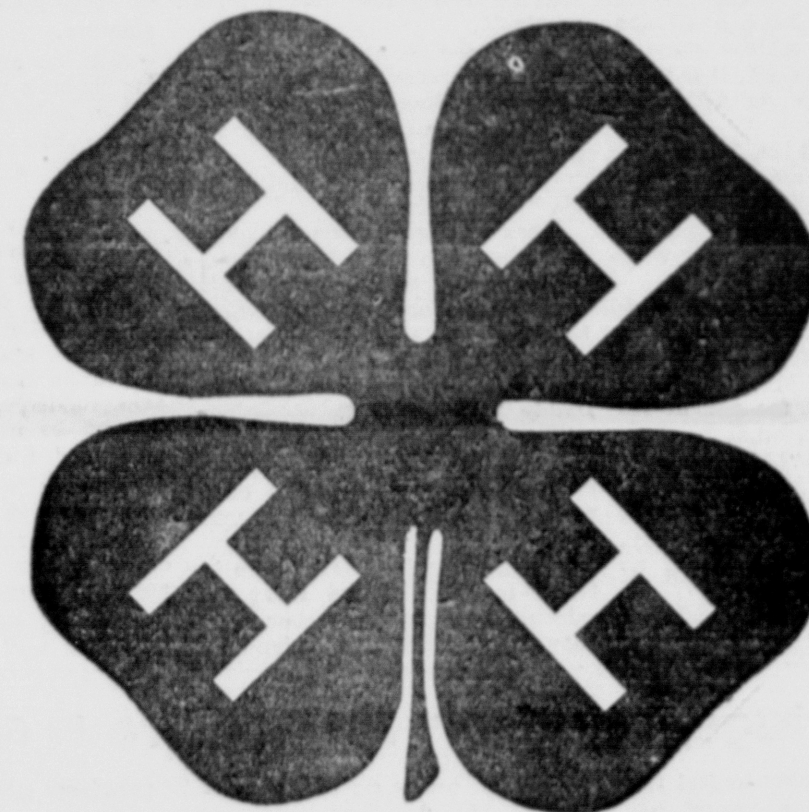

You as a parent will gain from 4-H club work by: seeing your child succeed, having an activity in which both you and your child can participate, learning new ideas from your child, and by meeting new friends through 4-H.

Have you helped your son or daughter enrolled in 4-H club work? Do so this week if you have not already. National 4-H Club Week is the time. More assistance can be secured at the County Extension Office, 159 1/2 E. Main St., in Circleville.

"We individually and collectively, pledge our efforts from day to day, to fight for the ideals of this Nation.

"We will never allow tyranny and injustice to become enthroned in this, our country through indifference to our duties as citizens.

"We will strive for intellectual honesty and exercise it through our power of franchise. We will obey the laws of our land and endeavor increasingly to quicken the sense of public duty among our fellowmen.

"We will strive for individual improvement and for social betterment. We will devote our talents to the enrichment of our homes and our communities in relation to their material and spiritual needs.

"We will endeavor to transmit this Nation to posterity not merely as we found it but freer, happier, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Labor-Industry Parley Fails

Suggestions last fall that industry and labor leaders get together for the preservation of that vanishing Americanism, collective bargaining, were warmly received by the White House. They could not have been proposed at a better time, for the country was then locked in a steel strike that seemed to defy solution.

Then the steel strike was settled by outside pressures hardly related to collective bargaining, and it looked as if the management-labor high-level conference idea was dead. It was revived, however, by the AFL-CIO executive council at its balmy Florida meeting a few weeks ago, and industry chiefs seemed willing to participate.

In fact, accommodations were arranged at Arden House — not otherwise identified — in New York by the American Assembly, and it looked as though something would be accomplished, even if it was just getting the interested parties together in a peaceful atmosphere.

But now comes word that conference arrangements have been canceled. The announcement is by the president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who says President George Meany of the AFL-CIO has been consistently unavailable to plan details of the meeting.

This, it may be suggested, is about par for the course. What is needed now is a top level conference to try to work out a top-level conference for the preservation of collective bargaining meanwhile, it is hoped no labor-management disputes come up requiring collective bargaining because it looks as though they've misplaced the formula.

Better Leave Weather Alone

Mankind can regulate the weather says a Hong Kong University professor, but he warns against it. Right now according to Prof. S. G. Davis, the Russians know how to melt most of their snow, and possibly have warm sunshine all the year round. Elsewhere in the world, he hints, man may soon be able to have his weather made to order.

But a quick switch to fair and warmer in Siberia, the professor predicts, could turn the Sahara Desert into a swamp. It could touch off typhoons and build up presures in the air more dangerous than the ones men are making on the ground. The implication is that humans would be no more able to agree on who got what weather than they are able to agree on the mundane questions over which they bicker.

The professor suggests continuing Mother Nature in charge, and that sounds like good advice. Capricious she may be, but things could be much worse with men calling the turn.

A Parent Just Can't Win

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—It is never too early to instill a child with worthwhile goals, and an appreciation of the finer things in life.

Every conscientious parent today knows this and tries to do something about it.

But—as every parent knows—it is easier to bend a crowbar than it is to bend the mind or will of a growing child. It is easier to pick up quicksilver with chopsticks.

When my daughter, Tracy Ann, was six months old I decided it was time to begin teaching her the first precepts designed to make her a finer and nobler woman.

"There is more to this world than just lying around all day in a play pen sucking milk out of a bottle," I told her. "It's time you gave a little thought to the future. Remember, what you are to be you are now becoming."

I might as well have been talking to a stone wall. Tracy went on her careless thoughtless way, living only for today, paying no heed to tomorrow.

On her first birthday I took her aside for a heart to heart talk.

"Look, kid," I told her, "life isn't just one long ride on the gravy train. It's a battlefield. Now is the time to be getting ready for the struggle. What are you going to do about it?"

"Glug!" exclaimed Tracy, waving her small fists like rampant rosebuds.

When she was two I tried to give her a sense of moral earnestness by reading her Milton's "Paradise Lost" at bedtime. My wife made me quit.

"You're giving the child insomnia," she insisted.

When she was three I had another heart to heart talk with my daughter and told her it was high time, once and for all, that she had to decide what she wanted to make of herself.

"I want to be Little Bo Peep, Daddy," she chirped.

"Cut out the Mother Goose prattle, kid," I grated. "No child of mine is going to wind up on a mountainside looking for lost muton."

Hoping she might develop an interest in art I tossed away her coloring book and gave her a $10 copy of "World Masterpieces of Painting." She ate it up. In two days. All but the hard covers.

When she was four I began playing Beethoven on the phonograph. At the first chance, she broke the record, put on a rock 'n' roll record — and began to shimmy.

At 5 she announced she was going to be a ballerina. This turned out to be just a passing fancy. At 6 she was obdurately sure she would be a nurse, and bandage mankind.

Soon Tracy Ann will be 7. The other day we had another sober discussion of the future, and I told her it was finally time she put away childish things and decide what she really wanted to be.

"I know that I want to be," she said suddenly. "I want to grow up and be a teen-ager."

"Why?" I demanded.

"Because a teen-ager gets to wear lipstick and thick black socks," she said. "And there's another reason. Teen-agers can do anything they want to."

A parent can't win — and he might as well quit trying.

No Shortage on Sugar, Mr. Castro

By George Sokolsky

Castro is beginning to feel the pinch. Otherwise, he would not have tried to bind our hands prior to a conference on outstanding difficulties.

From the authoritative "McCarthy Sugar Report," I take these figures which ought to make an American think:

"To Russia — 1 million metric tons at $3.10 per 100 lbs. equals $68,342,000.

To the U. S. — 1 million metric tons at $5.10 per 100 lbs. equals $112,434,000.

Thus Russia gets Cuban sugar cheaper than the U.S. by . . . $44,092,000.

(The top world spot price this week was $3.10 per 100 pounds (F.O.B.) (Cuba), and U. S. spot on a comparable basis F.O.B. Cuba was $5.10).

"Actually, of the first one million tons, Russia bought 575,000 tons at a lower level than the indicated $3.10 price above. She bought last September 230,000 tons at $2.905 and on February 5 of this year 345,000 tons at $2.78 per 100 pounds. These sugars will go into the deal as part of the 1960 one million tons since they were purchased for shipment this year.

"As a matter of record Russia always buys sugar from Cuba at a discount under the spot price. If fact, no other country in the world since Castro became Cuba's dictator has bought sugar for less than Russia. Russia is the fair-haired boy."

Obviously, it makes no sense for the United States to pay more for Cuban sugar than Russia pays, or than any other country pays. Why must we always be suckers?

But it is not only sugar that we buy from Cuba at a subsidy price that comes out of the pockets of the American taxpayer. We also give Cuba a direct military subsidy of $543,000. This money is military assistance to Castro, for the training of jet fliers. He could use those fliers against the United States. Do we have to subsidize our enemies?

When we pay more for sugar than the world price, we are paying a subsidy. It is true that some of that money goes to American companies in Cuba which employ Cuban labor. Since the first Sugar Act of 1934, the United States has given a higher quota for the import of sugar that has amounted annually to 375,000 tons. So advantageous has been the quota and the subsidy that a number of American companies have found it beneficial to invest in Cuba. All their properties are now imperiled by Castro policies.

There is a tendency on the part of some businessmen and members of Congress to oppose any action about either the quota or the subsidy at the present time, on the general ground that Castro will come to his senses and that then the American companies that do business in Cuba will continue to benefit by quota and subsidy. They feel that a subsidy once removed will never be reinstated. They are undoubtedly right, as there is a growing opposition to subsidies which seem to be unnecessary in a rising market.

Those who favor doing nothing about Castro have learned nothing from 40 years of experience. A revolution, such as the Castro movement in Cuba, that is, a social revolution, does not recede unless put down. There is too much to look for those in power to give way unless they cannot hold up.

Cuba is not Russia. It is a minor country with small economic strength or potential. Its black-mail prospects are excellent because of its proximity to the United States, but the only way to get rid of a blackmailer is to knock his teeth out so that he cannot put the bite on.

Certain figures in the McCarthy Sugar Report are worth quoting in this connection:

"On September 1, start of the new crop year world stock was 12,541,000 metric tons. World production is estimated at 48,900,000 tons and consumption at 50,317,000. Thus world stock on August 31, 1960 will be 11,000,000 tons. While the stock figure will be less than the 12,541,000 tons of the previous year it will be more than the 10,071,000 on hand September 1, 1958. A drought in Europe cut into estimated production.

"Of the total world production Russia will make an estimated 5,880,000 tons against 6,260,000 in the previous year. This is a post-war step-up in production from 2,500,000 tons in 1937-38 and is more than Cuba will produce . . ."

There is no shortage of sugar and the United States need take none at all from Cuba.

Measles May Cause Other Ills

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

You have heard of measles, of course. Few of you, though, I dare say, have ever heard about giant cell pneumonia. Well, there is some evidence now that these diseases might be connected.

Giant cell pneumonia is a respiratory disease characterized by the presence of unusually large cells. Unfortunately, it is often fatal.

Measles, on the other hand, generally is not a serious illness unless it attacks a baby or very young child or if the German variety strikes an expectant mother. After about a week to ten days, as a rule, it is over and that's that.

One attack of measles or German measles usually protects the victim from a subsequent attack. It confers a certain amount of immunity.

The measles virus, however, it appears, might cause more than measles. A Boston medical investigator says it may also cause giant cell pneumonia. And this provides us with a clue for combating the dangerous respiratory ailment.

Dr. Anna Mitus found that some type of agents, which she termed "indistinguishable from measles virus", were isolated in five children suffering from this form of pneumonia. All five youngsters eventually died.

She further reports: "Evidence strongly supporting the conclusion that measles virus was responsible for (the) five fatal cases of giant cell pneumonia has been obtained."

"Other children also have developed severe measles infection complicated by pneumonia."

Gamma Globulin is an injection often given in an attempt to control measles. If it also helps fight off this fatal form of pneumonia, this is a valuable discovery, indeed.

Question and Answer

Mrs. J. L. P.: My husband, who is 84 years old, is unusually healthy and active but suffers from what the doctors call "winter rash". This starts in early fall and appears at first on his wrists and ankles, eventually covering his entire body with small pus-capped pimples which form scabs.

Can you tell me what causes this and suggest something that may help the condition?

Answer: This is a form of dermatitis frequently found in older people and is usually due to a dry condition of the skin which is readily aggravated by sudden changes in temperatures and the use of irritating soaps.

The treatment consists in the use of soothing lotions or ointments and, if possible, in finding and removing the cause.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven months. No victory, really. No defeat. Nothing settled or solved. And yet in these 11 months there has been a big change.

You couldn't help but feel it this week at the news conference of Christian A. Herter who just a little less than 11 months ago succeeded John Foster Dulles as secretary of state. Dulles was then dying of cancer.

Herter is a friendly, even a genial, kind of man who seems to answer questions directly. He gives an impression of great honesty, but not an impression of great power.

Dulles was different. He talked like a man who had rehearsed—by having his aides ask him the questions newsmen might ask him—his answers beforehand, carefully down to the last phrase. But you never had any doubt, listening to Dulles and watching him, that he had power to spare. There was never any doubt that he was speaking not only for himself but for President Eisenhower, too, and that Eisenhower approved ahead of time.

The power was there, all right. Between the time he took office in 1953 and the time he went down with cancer early in 1959 Dulles made foreign policy. No secretary of state probably ever had been so trusted by a president.

Gradually, after Herter took over, Eisenhower began to assert himself and, in time, he became the great traveler. More and more it has become apparent that Eisenhower, not Herter, is making the decisions in foreign policy.

In these past 11 months the war without a war with the Soviet Union has quieted down. There is even some hope that good may come of Eisenhower's summit meeting in May with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

As a result of Eisenhower's increasing dominance in the foreign field, Herter seems to have retreated more into the background. Nothing has really happened—in the sense of solutions—since Herter took office.

We seem to be in a period of waiting, perhaps waiting to see what happens between Eisenhower er and Khrushchev. But just because Herter is a mild and genial man he gives this impression, too:

Between now and the time he and the Eisenhower administration leave office in January 1961, sensational events or settlements hardly seem expected.

It is almost as if Herter had become the caretaker of American foreign policy between the forceful and often explosive regime of Dulles and some new administration.

And yet this cannot be overlooked: Perhaps the present period of quiet—between the United States and the Soviet Union—would never have been possible so long as Dulles ran the show. The Soviets were hugely antagonistic to him.

The milder Herter throws no kerosene on the fire. And it is perhaps just because he is a non-inflammable man that the Soviets were willing to talk in a low key, at least for a while.

les which form scabs. Can you tell me what causes this and suggest something that may help the condition?

Answer: This is a form of dermatitis frequently found in older people and is usually due to a dry condition of the skin which is readily aggravated by sudden changes in temperatures and the use of irritating soaps.

The treatment consists in the use of soothing lotions or ointments and, if possible, in finding and removing the cause.

Ohio Radioman Logs Long Emergency Stint

SEVILLE, Spain (AP) — Air Force Sgt. Bernie Welch of Ada, Ohio, stayed at his ham radio set for 48 hours last week to relay emergency calls from earthquake-struck Agadir Morocco, Air Force spokesman said.

Welch, attached to the 3973rd U.S. Air Force Hospital at San Pablo Air Base, became a focal point of all-out rescue and relief operations, the spokesman said. After his two-day stint, Welch got some rest, then returned for 18 straight hours more at the set.

If you gloze someone, you flatter him.

BOYS BOUNCE SIGNALS OFF SATELLITES—Two 17-year-old amateur radio operators have conducted probably the world's first successful two-way communication with the aid of artificial satellites spinning around the earth, it was disclosed by Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge. The "hams" are Perry Klien (left, with his "ham" equipment), of Bethesda, Md., and Rafael Solfer, of New York, an MIT freshman. Klein is a high school senior. They reported they sent and received coded signals between their homes the morning of Feb. 6 by bouncing the signals off the ionized trails left by America's Explorer VII and Russia's Sputnik III, in low orbit off the Atlantic coast.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven months. No victory, really. No defeat. Nothing settled or solved. And yet in these 11 months there has been a big change.

You couldn't help but feel it this week at the news conference of Christian A. Herter who just a little less than 11 months ago succeeded John Foster Dulles as secretary of state. Dulles was then dying of cancer.

Herter is a friendly, even a genial, kind of man who seems to answer questions directly. He gives an impression of great honesty, but not an impression of great power.

Dulles was different. He talked

like a man who had rehearsed—by having his aides ask him the questions newsmen might ask him—his answers beforehand, carefully down to the last phrase. But you never had any doubt, listening to Dulles and watching him, that he had power to spare. There was never any doubt that he was speaking not only for himself but for President Eisenhower, too, and that Eisenhower approved ahead of time.

The power was there, all right. Between the time he took office in 1953 and the time he went down with cancer early in 1959 Dulles made foreign policy. No secretary of state probably ever had been so trusted by a president.

Gradually, after Herter took over, Eisenhower began to assert himself and, in time, he became the great traveler. More and more it has become apparent that Eisenhower, not Herter, is making the decisions in foreign policy.

In these past 11 months the war without a war with the Soviet Union has quieted down. There is even some hope that good may come of Eisenhower's summit meeting in May with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

As a result of Eisenhower's increasing dominance in the foreign field, Herter seems to have retreated more into the background. Nothing has really happened—in the sense of solutions—since Herter took office.

We seem to be in a period of waiting, perhaps waiting to see what happens between Eisenhower

er and Khrushchev. But just because Herter is a mild and genial man he gives this impression, too:

Between now and the time he and the Eisenhower administration leave office in January 1961, sensational events or settlements hardly seem expected.

It is almost as if Herter had become the caretaker of American foreign policy between the forceful and often explosive regime of Dulles and some new administration.

And yet this cannot be overlooked: Perhaps the present period of quiet—between the United States and the Soviet Union—would never have been possible so long as Dulles ran the show. The Soviets were hugely antagonistic to him.

The milder Herter throws no kerosene on the fire. And it is perhaps just because he is a non-inflammable man that the Soviets were willing to talk in a low key, at least for a while.

No Shortage on Sugar, Mr. Castro

By George Sokolsky

Castro is beginning to feel the pinch. Otherwise, he would not have tried to bind our hands prior to a conference on outstanding difficulties.

From the authoritative "McCarthy Sugar Report," I take these figures which ought to make an American think:

"To Russia — 1 million metric tons at $3.10 per 100 lbs. equals $68,342,000
To the U. S. — 1 million metric tons at $5.10 per 100 lbs. equals $112,434,000
Thus Russia gets Cuban sugar cheaper than the U.S. by . . . $44,092,000

(The top world spot price this week was $3.10 per 100 pounds (F.O.B.) (Cuba), and U. S. spot on a comparable basis F.O.B. Cuba was $5.10).

"Actually, of the first one million tons, Russia bought 575,000 tons at a lower level than the indicated $3.10 price above. She bought last September 230,000 tons at $2.95 and on February 5 of this year 345,000 tons at $2.78 per 100 pounds. These sugars will go into the deal as part of the 1960 one million tons since they were purchased for shipment this year.

"As a matter of record Russia always buys sugar from Cuba at a discount under the spot price. If fact, no other country in the world since Castro became Cuba's dictator has bought sugar for less than Russia. Russia is the fair-haired boy."

Obviously, it makes no sense for the United States to pay more for Cuban sugar than Russia pays, or than any other country pays. Why must we always be suckers?

But it is not only sugar that we buy from Cuba at a subsidy

price that comes out of the pockets of the American taxpayer. We also give Cuba a direct military subsidy of $543,000. This money is military assistance to Castro, for the training of jet fliers. He could use those fliers against the United States. Do we have to subsidize our enemies?

When we pay more for sugar than the world price, we are paying a subsidy. It is true that some of that money goes to American companies in Cuba which employ Cuban labor. Since the first Sugar Act of 1934, the United States has given a higher quota for the import of sugar that has amounted annually to 375,000 tons. So advantageous has been the quota and the subsidy that a number of American companies have found it beneficial to invest in Cuba. All their properties are now imperiled by Castro policies.

There is a tendency on the part of some businessmen and members of Congress to oppose any action about either the quota or the subsidy at the present time, on the general ground that Castro will come to his senses and that then the American companies that do business in Cuba will continue to benefit by quota and subsidy. They feel that a subsidy once removed will never be reinstated. They are undoubtedly right, as there is a growing opposition to subsidies which seem to be unnecessary in a rising market.

Those who favor doing nothing about Castro have learned nothing from 40 years of experience. A revolution, such as the Castro movement in Cuba, that is, a social revolution, does not recede unless put down. There is too much to loot for those in power to give way unless they cannot hold up.

Cuba is not Russia. It is a minor country with small economic strength or potential. Its black-mail prospects are excellent because of its proximity to the United States, but the only way to get rid of a blackmailer is to knock his teeth out so that he cannot put the bite on.

Certain figures in the McCarthy Sugar Report are worth quoting in this connection:

"On September 1, start of the new crop year world stock was 12,541,000 metric tons. World production is estimated at 48,900,000 tons and consumption at 50,317,000. Thus world stock on August 31, 1960 will be 11,000,000 tons. While the stock figure will be less than the 12,541,000 tons of the previous year it will be more than the 10,671,000 on hand September 1, 1958. A drought in Europe cut into estimated production.

"Of the total world production Russia will make an estimated 5,880,000 tons against 6,260,000 in the previous year. This is a post-war step-up in production from 2,500,000 tons in 1937-38 and is more than Cuba will produce."

There is no shortage of sugar and the United States need take none at all from Cuba.

New Idle Pay Claims Increase in Ohio

Ashland Company Agrees to Sale To Akron Firm

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Directors of McNeil Machine & Engineering Co. of Akron and F. E. Myers & Bros. Co. of Ashland, Ohio, have agreed in principle to the sale of all Myers assets to McNeil. It was announced today. The transaction involves about 12 million dollars. McNeil will pay $60 a share for outstanding Myers common stock, it was reported. A special meeting of Myers stockholders will be called to approve a contract which now is being prepared.

Myers manufactures water pumps for farm and home use, power spraying and air conditioning equipment. It has two plants at Ashland and a subsidiary at Aurora, Mo.

McNeil makes curing presses for tires, tubes and mechanical rubber goods. A subsidiary Cleveland Crane & Engineering Co. at Wickliffe, Ohio, makes heavy cranes and other equipment.

Ohio's Radiation Control Setup Faces Salary Blocks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Once Ohio's flat-broke radiation control program gets going, it will need specialists who can command better salaries than the state presently will pay, Health Director Ralph E. Dwork says.

"State pay in these technical fields is woefully inadequate in comparison with private industry," Dr. Dwork asserted. "State personnel officials went forward in good faith and compared the salaries Ohio pays with those paid by other states."

"But if you compare cripples with cripples, you come out with cripples."

"Other states are equally in difficulty on this competitive salary situation, so it's not a fair comparison. I have no quarrel with the method they chose, but there is an inherent bias in it as far as personnel for the State Health Department are concerned."

The state always catches up in the salary race just about in time to fall behind again, Dwork declared, adding:

"This approach is one of less vision than we could conceivably have. It's time to exercise leadership instead of being always behind."

Mrs. Klumpp Files Appeal In High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Council for Mrs. Edythe Margaret Klumpp of Cincinnati appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court from her death sentence for the slaying of Mrs. Louise Bergen on Oct. 30, 1958.

Mrs. Klumpp claims that Mrs. Bergen was killed by her husband, William Bergen, when a gun discharged when they struggled.

Mrs. Bergen's burned body was found Nov. 1, 1958 by hunters near Lake Cowan in Clinton County.

Mrs. Klumpp was convicted of first-degree murder by Hamilton County Common Pleas Court. An appellate court affirmed the decision.

Mrs. Klumpp, a 42-year-old mother of four, was convicted on the charge of first-degree murder for killing Mrs. Bergen in a struggle over a gun in Bergen's car.

Later, after the trial, Mrs. Klumpp said it was Bergen who killed his wife and burned her body. In her latest statement Mrs. Klumpp says there are people in Cincinnati who could help her case if they would only come forward. One, she says, saw her and Bergen together the evening of Oct. 30, 1958, when Bergen's wife was shot to death.

The testimony of this unnamed witness, she contends, would help establish that Bergen was at the scene of the crime.

On Oct. 16, 1940, approximately 16,400,000 men were registered for the U. S. Armed Forces under the Selective Service Act.

The problem in the new radiation control program is that the 1959 Legislature gave the Health Department the responsibility, but no money, to administer the new protection law.

When the program really gets going, the department will keep tabs on industrial, professional (doctors, dentists using equipment like X-ray) and other uses of radiation equipment in Ohio. The idea is to assure proper use and protect the public.

But to pay for the program, the department is counting on an appropriation from the 1961 Legislature.

In the meantime, Dwork said: "We're doing some spadework on the program, including looking around for specialists to recruit. But the money for anything we do at present in this program will have to be taken from other sources."

Dr. Thomas F. Mancuso, chief of the department's Division of Industrial Hygiene, has charge of the program. But Mancuso has James Wynd, the only other man in the division devoting much time to the program.

Dwork said he has another specialist in mind for the program and plans to talk with the state's Department of Personnel about offering a salary that will attract him. He did not identify the man.

A five-member advisory council—representing medicine, engineering, education and government—was named last month to assist in the radiation control program. It will meet in April for the first time.

National Club Week

Most good things stem from the homes, churches and schools of our community. Right now, as we celebrate National 4-H Club Week we want to point out some of the many worthwhile things that originate with this wonderful organization.

It offers sons and daughters training in various farm projects, farm management, electrical work, various mechanical projects, cooking, sewing, gardening, flower growing, etc. It is all-inclusive being designed for sons and daughters of both rural and urban families. It has something to offer practically every young man and woman.

As you sit in the comfort of your homes reading this 4-H Club edition think these things over. We believe you will want to urge your sons and daughters to take advantage of what 4-H Club work offers. Talk it over with them. If they are not registered in 4-H work we suggest that you contact the Agricultural Extension Office either by phone or stop at the Farm Bureau office building, 159 E. Main St. They'll be glad to cite you to a 4-H Club leader in your community. You won't regret this decision and neither will your sons and daughters.

TO OBSERVE NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

We urge adults to give their time to this very worthy cause as leaders and we urge all Pickaway County boys and girls, who possibly can, to join a 4-H Club. This is a very worthwhile thing developing our youth so they will be better citizens and better farmers and farmerettes.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A Teamsters Union local president wants a paid holiday for the birthday of Teamsters International President James R. Hoffa.

The request was made by Anthony Cusano, president of Teamsters Local 108, in contract proposals to building materials employers. Hoffa's birthday is February 14.

Busiest Man in Britain Is Royal Dressmaker

LONDON (AP) — The busiest man in Britain probably is royal dressmaker Norman Hartnell, hard at work on designs for Princess Margaret's wedding dress and those of her bridesmaids.

Hartnell, a long-time favorite with the royal family, was asked to submit six designs for Margaret's bridal gown and six more for her bridesmaids. The designer said he would have all 12 ready by Friday night.

In Hong Kong a rickshaw ride averages $1.05 an hour.

Today's 4-H Youth - - - - Tomorrow's Leaders

Today, more and more boys and girls are becoming 4-H club members. This is due to the fact that there is such a wide range of interests for them.

For the girls there is cooking, sewing and home furnishings. For the boys there is livestock, arts and crafts, etc.

Why not get on the 4-H Merry-Go Round today and become a member? For further information contact the Pickaway County Agriculture Extension office.

National Club Week

Most good things stem from the homes, churches and schools of our community. Right now, as we celebrate National 4-H Club Week we want to point out some of the many worthwhile things that originate with this wonderful organization.

It offers sons and daughters training in various farm projects, farm management, electrical work, various mechanical projects, cooking, sewing, gardening, flower growing, etc. It is all-inclusive being designed for sons and daughters of both rural and urban families. It has something to offer practically every young man and woman.

As you sit in the comfort of your homes reading this 4-H Club edition think these things over. We believe you will want to urge your sons and daughters to take advantage of what 4-H Club work offers. Talk it over with them. If they are not registered in 4-H work we suggest that you contact the Agricultural Extension Office either by phone or stop at the Farm Bureau office building, 159 E. Main St. They'll be glad to cite you to a 4-H Club leader in your community. You won't regret this decision and neither will your sons and daughters.

TO OBSERVE NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK

We urge adults to give their time to this very worthy cause as leaders and we urge all Pickaway County boys and girls, who possibly can, to join a 4-H Club. This is a very worthwhile thing developing our youth so they will be better citizens and better farmers and farmerettes.

Mrs. Cushing Named Head of Newcomers' Club

Election of officers was the highlight of the evening when members of the Newcomers' Club assembled in the home of Mrs. Ray Sebulsky, 472 E. Main St., last evening.

Mrs. David Cushing was named president; Mrs. Richard Hackman, vice-president; Mrs. Ned Young, secretary; and Mrs. Michael Karreckhoff, treasurer.

Constitution revisions were approved by the group. It was announced during the business session that the annual Tea would be held April 21 at the Pickaway Country Club. Installation dinner is slated in May.

Mrs. Karreckhoff, representative of the Historical Society; Mrs. Glen Ezell, Pickaway County Traffic Committee; and Mrs. Richard Hackman, Circleville Federation of Women's Clubs, gave reports.

Members expressed appreciation to Mrs. Tom Duncan and committee for the success of Las Vegas Night.

A "white elephant" sale was conducted with Mrs. Frank Hoffman and Mrs. V. J. Burdick as auctioneers.

Fifty members and guests were served refreshments at the close of the evening.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Race for That Speck of Dust

DEAR ABBY: My mother lives with us. I know she is an old lady, but listen to this and tell me if I'm wrong.

She is a fanatic on housekeeping. If I put down a piece of paper even for a minute while I go for a pencil, when I come back the paper is crumpled and in the wastepaper basket. When people are smoking she will take the ash tray away from them and empty it. She is always busy polishing door knobs and every little bit of chrome, brass or silver she can find. All this constant polishing and tidying-up makes her look like a perfect housekeeper and by comparison I suppose I look like a slob. What can be done about it? She is 77 and I am 45 and she wears me out.

WORN OUT

DEAR WORN: You ought to be thankful that you have an energetic, healthy mother bustling around your home. If she wants to polish and tidy up—let her. It will keep her busy and happy and it won't hurt your house. Next time a speck of dust settles—race her for it. (I'll bet on Mamma.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband works from 3:00 p. m. until 11:00 p. m. He used to get home at 11:30 every night.

Lately he's been getting home at 2 and 3 in the morning with a fresh shave and smelling pretty. He claims his whiskers haven't been growing lately. I think he must be lying to me. He used to come home needing a shave. I would like to know where he is getting these shaves and why.

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: If he denies that he has had a fresh shave when it is apparent that he has, you won't have to look far for the gay blade. Behind every "second" shave there's usually a "two-timer".

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is 13 but I look about 16. My Daddy died when I was seven and Mamma married another man. I always liked my step-Daddy, mainly because he would buy me candy and he was extra good to me.

He used to kiss me a lot and put his arms around me and pull me down to sit on his lap. He offered to teach me how to drive a car. I know now that it was just an excuse to get me alone. I am scared to death of him, Abby, because he is too friendly lately. I can't tell my mother because it will break her heart. She thinks he is perfect. Tell me what to do, please, before I run away.

SCARED GIRL

DEAR SCARED: TELL YOUR MOTHER!

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Slides of Hawaii Featured At Pickaway Twp. PTO Meet

Prof. Horton, Franklin University, Columbus, showed slides and gave comment on his recent trip to Hawaii last night at the Pickaway Twp. PTO session at the school.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Robert Valentine. Mrs. Harold Alkire presided during the business session. The sixth grade won the attendance award for the evening.

Members voted to purchase tickets for Pickaway Twp. Honor Society members for their annual banquet. They also voted to buy a 50 star flag for the school.

Alfred Gabriel, principal, announced the results of the senior scholarship tests stating that 50 per cent of Pickaway Twp. seniors placed in the top ten per cent of Pickaway County.

The Junior Variety Show will be held at 8 p. m. tonight and tomorrow night at the school.

Wells Wilson, member of the Logan Elm Board, announced that dedication of the Washington Twp.

new school addition would be held March 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther List and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Grissom were program chairmen. A vocal solo was presented by Sandra Grissom. The fifth and sixth grade pupils gave two musical numbers under the direction of Mr. Bohm, music teacher.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Curtis Barr and committee.

Clines To Have Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Cline, 615 S. Scioto St., will observe their 25th wedding anniversary with open house from 2-5 p. m. Sunday at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cline were married March 13, 1935, at the First EUB Church with the Rev. B. C. Harper officiating.

They have six daughters, Mrs. Lucille Peters, Elm Ave., Mrs. Anna Belle Ward, Ashville, Edith, Georgia, Margaret and Alice, at home; and two grandchildren.

Camp Is Best
4-H Memory

Pickaway County
Youth at Tar Hollow

Many happy memories are held by those who have attended a 4-H camp. Meeting new people and making good friends is perhaps the greatest value of 4-H camp.

Tar Hollow is the camping ground for the 4-H members of both Pickaway and Ross Counties who camp together.

Three days of pure pleasure are had by those who take part in the various camping activities. Among these activities are: early morning swims; crafts; hiking; swimming; various athletic contests; dish washing; participating in stunts; vespers; campfires; clean-up; indoor games; singing and square dancing.

Older 4-H members may qualify for camp counseling. The counselor is in charge of the 4-H'ers in his cabin. He also has responsibilities to carry out in one or more of the various camp activities.

4-H members who have done outstanding work in their county also have an opportunity to be awarded and attend one of the state camps. These camps are Junior Leadership, Conservation and Forestry Camps.

To the 4-H alumni, camping is perhaps the experience he remembers most in his 4-H career.

Space Expert
Disagrees on Ike's Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top adviser on space today disagreed with President Eisenhower's approach to the national space program.

In testimony before the House Space Committee, William M. Holaday, chairman of a committee to coordinate the civilian and military aspects of the present space program, strongly disapproved of the divided approach.

Holaday said he also disagreed with Eisenhower's proposal to abolish the civilian-military liaison committee—which Holaday heads. Abolishing the committee is one of several proposed changes in the National Space Act the House committee is studying.

Eisenhower has repeatedly stressed his belief in the need for separate military and civilian space programs. But Holaday said he felt this approach sapped strength and resources.

"As an end objective they can be separate," he said, "but the similarity between the programs is far greater than anyone would be led to believe."

Holaday said he favors putting all space research and development under a single agency—either the National Aeronautics and Space Administration or the Department of Defense. When a definite objective is established for a space project, he said, it then can be assigned to either a military or civilian agency.

Ruling Detailed On Pay Given
City Employees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Full-time regular salaried city employees making public improvements must be paid prevailing wage rates for the community, the attorney general has ruled.

"The only exception," said Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, "is cities who have home-rule and their own civil service regulations."

In a formal opinion sent to Charles H. Anderson, prosecuting attorney in Trumbull County, McElroy said:

"A municipal council may set the salaries of municipal employees, but such salaries are subject to the prevailing wage law where it applies."

"However, where a city has adopted a charter and has regulated the salaries of its employees under the charter, the state statutes pertaining to prevailing wages are not applicable."

The prevailing wage law (sections 4115.03 to 4115.06) inclusive of the revised code says, "Every public authority authorized to contract for or construct with its own forces a public improvement . . . shall . . . determine the prevailing rates of wages of mechanics and laborers . . . in the locality where the work is to be performed. . . ."

The attorney general distinguished between maintenance and public improvements. He said such improvements meant construction, alterations or major repairs on jobs costing more than $300.

Patrol Arrests Trio
In Car-Theft Service

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Patrol says three men have admitted operating a car-stealing service in this area for an auto junk yard somewhere in Tennessee. The patrol Thursday arrested James Tomamichael, 24, Glen Seiber, 27, and Al Newkirk, 24, staying at a Milford hotel, and charged them with auto theft. Investigators said the three admitted taking specific types of cars sought by the Tennessee firm.

Camp Is Best 4-H Memory

Pickaway County Youth at Tar Hollow

Many happy memories are held by those who have attended a 4-H camp. Meeting new people and making good friends is perhaps the greatest value of 4-H camp.

Tar Hollow is the camping ground for the 4-H members of both Pickaway and Ross Counties who camp together.

Three days of pure pleasure are had by those who take part in the various camping activities. Among these activities are: early morning swims; crafts; hiking; swimming; various athletic contests; dish washing; participating in stunts; vespers; campfires; clean-up; indoor games; singing and square dancing.

Older 4-H members may qualify for camp counseling. The counselor is in charge of the 4-Hers in his cabin. He also has responsibilities to carry out in one or more of the various camp activities.

4-H members who have done outstanding work in their county also have an opportunity to be awarded and attend one of the state camps. These camps are Junior Forestry Camps, Conservation and Forestry Camps.

To the 4-H alumni, camping is perhaps the experience he remembers most in his 4-H career.

Space Expert Disagrees on Ike's Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top adviser on space today disagreed with President Eisenhower's approach to the national space program.

In testimony before the House Space Committee, William M. Holaday, chairman of a committee to coordinate the civilian and military aspects of the present space program, strongly disagreed with the divided approach.

Holaday said he also disagreed with Eisenhower's proposal to abolish the civilian-military liaison committee—which Holaday heads. Abolishing the committee is one of several proposed changes in the National Space Act the House committee is studying.

Eisenhower has repeatedly stressed his belief in the need for separate military and civilian space programs. But Holaday said he felt this approach sapped strength and resources.

"As an end objective they can be separate," he said, "but the similarity between the programs is far greater than anyone would be led to believe."

Holaday said he favors putting all space research and development under a single agency—either the National Aeronautics and Space Administration or the Department of Defense. When a definite objective is established for a space project, he said, it then can be assigned to either a military or civilian agency.

Foreign tourists visiting Japan in 1959 spent a total of 76 million dollars.

Ruling Detailed On Pay Given City Employees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Full-time regular salaried city employees making public improvements must be paid prevailing wage rates for the community, the attorney general has ruled.

"The only exception," said Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, "is cities who have home-rule and their own civil service regulations."

In a formal opinion sent to Charles H. Anderson, prosecuting attorney in Trumbull County, McElroy said:

"A municipal council may set the salaries of municipal employees, but such salaries are subject to the prevailing wage law where it applies."

"However, where a city has adopted a charter and has regulated the salaries of its employees under the charter, the state statutes pertaining to prevailing wages are not applicable."

The prevailing wage law (sections 4115.03 to 4115.06) inclusive of the revised code says, "Every public authority authorized to contract for or construct with its own forces a public improvement . . . shall . . . determine the prevailing rates of wages of mechanics and laborers . . . in the locality where the work is to be performed."

The attorney general distinguished between maintenance and public improvements. He said such improvements meant construction, alterations or major repairs on jobs costing more than $300.

Patrol Arrests Trio In Car-Theft Service

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Patrol says three men have admitted operating a car-stealing service in this area for an auto junk yard somewhere in Tennessee. The patrol Thursday arrested James Tomamichael, 24, Glen Seiber, 27, and Al Newkirk, 24, staying at a Milford hotel, and charged them with auto theft. Investigators said the three admitted taking specific types of cars sought by the Tennessee firm.

Pickaway County 4-H Youths Had 1,200 Projects in '59

The project is the first requirement of 4-H club membership. All activities center around the project, thus making it the backbone of 4-H club work. A member without a project would be like a ship without a rudder; he would have no central interest to steer his course of activity.

To become a 4-H club member a boy or girl must enroll in one of the many projects listed by the state in which the member lives. Through his project work, the club member is taught improved practices which, in turn, serve as demonstrations for the community. He learns business principles by keeping required records.

By project is meant the animals raised and articles made by the members, or some other definite enterprise undertaken by members. The project should be one which fits well into the conditions of the community. It should be practical and provide some income, savings, or satisfaction to the club member.

Each club member must do personally the work required to complete successfully the project selected; though when heavy work is involved, younger club members may have the help of adults. In all production projects, each club member must have the animals or crops in his own name; or, if one is on a partnership or share basis, he must have a definite arrangement with the other parties concerned, so that he is on his own responsibility and can make his own decisions about the care and management of his project.

Leaders should help club members select projects best suited to their individual conditions. Young club members should not undertake more than one project a year, but older ones find it desirable to carry several projects a year. Each state lists its own complete outlines of projects selected for this state.

Seven hundred seventy-four Pickaway County 4-H club members completed 1,200 projects in 1959.

4-H Pledge

The national 4-H emblem is a four-leaf clover with a letter "H" on each leaf. 4-H club colors are green and white. The white background of the 4-H flag symbolizes purity, the green of the emblem represents nature's most common color, and is also symbolic of youth, life, and growth. The national 4-H pledge reads:

"I pledge — my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, my health to better living for my club, my community, and my country."

Baby Donors Sell Home In England

LUTON, England (AP) — Leo and Yvonne Moore sold their little bungalow today and prepared to leave Luton forever because of the local uproar over their decision to give their baby to an American couple after it is born.

Moore now plans to fly to America with his 39-year-old wife later this week. She will have the baby there and immediately give it for adoption to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Prescott of North Charleston, S.C.

Mrs. Moore originally planned to fly to America Wednesday on an Icelandic Airways prop-driven DC6, but the flight was canceled. The other passengers transferred to a jet, but a doctor for bade Mrs. Moore to use the high-flying aircraft. She and her husband may be able to get on a plane Sunday at Glasgow, Scotland.

Moore, 40, a bus driver, said he had accepted an offer of 2,450 pounds, or $6,860, for his home.

"With the money I'll be able to fly to America with Yvonne," he said. "We don't want to return to the bungalow because of all the unpleasantness this affair has caused."

The Prescotts are paying the expenses of Mrs. Moore's trip. The baby is due in mid-April.

The Moores said they didn't want the baby, their first, because they were too old to bring up children. Their decision was generally condemned in Luton, and Moore received scores of abusive letters from all over Britain.

Capital Punishment Foes Lose Ground

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A group of New York State legislators is fighting again this year to abolish capital punishment in the state. But legislative action Wednesday night indicates there is little chance.

The death sentence is mandatory in New York State for first-degree murder, unless the murder involves a felony. In a felony-murder, the jury may recommend leniency, but the judge need not follow that recommendation.

The Assembly voted down Wednesday night a measure that would make it mandatory for the judge to follow a jury's recommendation of leniency.

75 DIE AS ARMS SHIP EXPLODES IN HAVANA—At least 75 to 100 persons were killed and about 200 others were injured, some critically, when the French ammunition ship La Coudre exploded and burned on the Havana, Cuba, waterfront. The vessel was unloading ammunition when a series of explosions rocked it. The ship had arrived from Antwerp, Belgium, where it had taken on 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition bought through the European arms-buying mission of Col. Ramon Barquin. At top, smoke rises from the burning French ammunition ship. Flying debris and exploding shells made fire fighting operations hazardous. At bottom, firefighters work amid rubble of the warehouse which was wrecked when the ammunition ship blew up at the Havana dock.

Rocket Expert Says Russians Holding Back

CLEVELAND (AP) — A noted rocket authority says Russia's current silence on space exploration may mean that Moscow is planning an important shot to coincide with a major political event. That event may be the Paris summit meeting in May, said Willy Ley, former Commerce Department technical consultant and now a lecturer at Fairleigh Dickinson University in New Jersey.

He spoke at the last of the Park Synagogue's lecture forum series here Wednesday night. The next Soviet shot, he said, could send a Russian into space. Ley quoted a Russian space scientist as having written earlier this year that Russia would orbit its first man in June or July. Another comment on the space race came from a Russian-born Colgate University professor, also in town for a speech Wednesday night. Dr. Albert Parry, here to address the Foreign Relations Committee of the Cleveland Council on World Affairs, warned that Russia possibly may have an "orbital stage bomb" and predicted the Soviets may have a man in space by November or December. Dr. Parry is chairman of the Department of Russian Studies at Colgate.

28-Year-Old Bachelor Called An 'Understanding Mother'

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
The most efficient and understanding "mother" I know is a 28-year-old bachelor named Steve Meyer.

Although he has had no previous experience in the field, Steve finds taking care of 10 children a breeze. "Anybody who takes the trouble to understand a child should have no problems of discipline," says this pleasant and good-looking young man. "I just remember that kids are people, and act accordingly."

As assistant stage manager of the Broadway musical hit, "The Sound of Music," Steve has charge of the seven children of the cast and their three understudies, ranging in age from 8 to 16.

He also has to cope with their mothers, and this, he admits, is not so easy. But during the months of rehearsal and five weeks on the road, he learned to cope even with stage mothers by the time the show opened in New York.

"No mothers are allowed backstage during performances," he says. "This rule is simple to enforce, because there just isn't room. We have four little girls and four dressers in one dressing room, two boys and two dressers in another. The oldest girl dresses with the grownups."

"But there's no room for mothers. So we have a room in the basement fixed up for mothers and understudies. The kids watch TV and do their homework and the mothers sit and plot how to get more attention for their offspring—but it all works out okay."

"These kids are professionals," says Steve. "If there's any real problem of discipline, I just say 'Call the understudy,' and order is restored."

The children, who portray the famous Von Trapp family singers, are: Evanna Lien, a veteran actress at 8, who made her singing and dancing debut at 3 and has played in three top movies; Mary Susan Locke, 9, who was playing Shakespeare at 6; Kat Dunn, 12, who has made more than 100 appearances in theaters and ballrooms and is a Girl Scout; Marilyn Rogers, 12, who left a featured role in "The Music Man" to join the cast of "The Sound of Music"; Lauri Peters, 16, who has been in two previous Broadway shows and plays the oldest of the Von Trapp children; William Snowden, making his Broadway debut at 13, and Joseph Stewart, a veteran of TV, movies and the stage at 12.

Firecracker Powder Blast Hurts Boy, 10

CLEVELAND (AP) — A small aspirin bottle filled with firecracker powder exploded in the hand of Robert Glenn, 10, Thursday when he was playing with it at home. He suffered a mangled left hand, a burned left eye, and burns on his left arm and side. The blast set fire to a rug and curtains, causing about $1,000 damage to the Rocky River home.

DIFFERENCE IN A CHEVY WAGON!

Chevy wagons are widest where wagons should be—with the widest seating, the widest cargo space and the widest choice of power teams in the low-price field. Check any of the five handy, handsome new models at your dealer's. You won't find these versatile advantages in any other wagon near Chevy's size and price!

■ Widest seating, front and rear—up to a full 3.1 inches wider in front, up to 4.2 inches in the rear. ■ Widest cargo area—the load platform's a whopping 5 1/4 feet wide, designed for a wider variety of cargo. ■ Widest area between wheel housings—allows more room for bulky loads. ■ Widest choice of engines and transmissions—24 combinations in all, to give you peak performance with any kind of load. ■ Full Coil springs that ride right loaded or light—no other wagon near Chevy's price and size gentles the bumps with coil springs at all four wheels. ■ More road and ramp clearance—you can take full loads over bumps and grades without scraping bumpers. ■ Truly practical 9-passenger model—with roomy rear-facing third seat and electric roll-down rear windows.

See Corvair for the wide, wide difference in compact cars! Every Corvair gives you a fold-down rear seat for extra storage space—at not a penny extra. And this is only one of many advantages you'll find in no other compact car in the land!

75 DIE AS ARMS SHIP EXPLODES IN HAVANA—At least 75 to 100 persons were killed and about 200 others were injured, some critically, when the French ammunition ship Le Courrier exploded and burned on the Havana, Cuba, waterfront. The vessel was unloading ammunition when a series of explosions rocked it. The ship had arrived from Antwerp, Belgium, where it had taken on 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition bought through the European arms-buying mission of Col. Ramon Barquin. At top, smoke rises from the burning French ammunition ship. Flying debris and exploding shells made fire fighting operations hazardous. At bottom, firefighters work amid rubble of the warehouse which was wrecked when the ammunition ship blew up at the Havana dock.

Rocket Expert Says Russians Holding Back

CLEVELAND (AP) — A noted rocket authority says Russia's current silence on space exploration may mean that Moscow is planning an important shot to coincide with a major political event. That event may be the Paris summit meeting in May, said Willy Ley, former Commerce Department technical consultant and now a lecturer at Fairleigh Dickinson University in New Jersey.

He spoke at the last of the Park Synagogue's lecture forum series here Wednesday night. The next Soviet shot, he said, could send a Russian into space. Ley quoted a Russian space scientist as having written earlier this year that Russia would orbit its first man in June or July. Another comment on the space race came from a Russian-born Colgate University professor, also in town for a speech Wednesday night.

Dr. Albert Parry, here to address the Foreign Relations Committee of the Cleveland Council on World Affairs, warned that Russia possibly may have an "orbital stage bomb" and predicted the Soviets may have a man in space by November or December. Dr. Parry is chairman of the Department of Russian Studies at Colgate.

HOW A MAN WITH A CLEAR CONSCIENCE AND
A PASSION TO PROCLAIM CHRIST CONDUCTED
HIMSELF DURING TWO YEARS OF TRIALS
IN ROMAN COURTS

Scripture—Acts 24-26

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
DR. WILBUR M. SMITH, editor and commentator of Fellowship's Select Notes, writes that the classes of both younger and older pupils might begin the study of this lesson "by an ap-

Our lesson concerns three trials

Five days after Paul's return

that he was "a pestilent fellow,
and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes: Who also hath gone about to profane the temple; whom we took, and would have judged according to our law."—Acts 24:1-6.

"Paul easily disproved these false charges," writes Dr. Smith.
He said in his own defense that he had not gone to the temple
to profane but to worship, that he had not been "disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues nor in the city: Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me."
He also said that he came to Jerusalem to bring help in the

Gounod "O Divine Redeemer."
Miss Lautenbach is a student with Miss Wittich at Capital University.
They are both members of the Chapel Choir at Capital. Organ music to be played for the prelude and postlude will include "Deck Thyself, O My Soul, with Gladness" by Bach and "Salve, Regina" by Bonnet.

Accolies serving at Evening
Prayer will be Billy Weldon and Chip Harrod.

Following the service, there will be a coffee hour in the parish house

Sign Language Just a Service

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—
The two jail inmates had been conversing in sign language for several days.

Officer Wilbert Anderson began questioning one of the unidentified men by writing questions on paper. And the man wrote his answers.

For some reason, Anderson said
he wrote:

"Are you deaf?"
The man shook his head.
"Well, what is your condition?"
said Anderson.

"I can talk," the man said audibly. "I thought you were deaf."

The speaking inmate said he used sign language because his companion was deaf.

at which members of the congregation will have an opportunity to meet the Rev. Mr. Leake. The coffee hour has been arranged by Mrs. Howard B. Moore.

Women's Pantie Thief Is Held in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Butler County man has admitted stealing women's underwear from clotheslines in 13 apartment buildings in suburban Reading and Sharonville, police reported. Sgt.
Daniel Brown of Sharonville said he arrested Raymond Ross Holt, 25, of West Chester after finding Holt hiding under an apartment house stairway.

Brown said police want to question Holt about $1,200 worth of silverware, tools, guns and cameras found in his car. No charge was filed immediately.

Expensive Shoveling

FARGO, N. Y. (AP)—The city of Fargo is shoveling sidewalks for negligent residents who wait too long to begin cleaning up after snow storms.

The city undertook the job after receiving complaints about unshoveled walks being blocked with snow. The cost, in bills sent the property owners, is nine cents a running foot.

HOW A MAN WITH A CLEAR CONSCIENCE AND
A DESIRE TO PROCLAIM CHRIST CONDUCTED
HIMSELF DURING TWO YEARS OF TRIALS
IN ROMAN COURTS

Scripture—Acts 24-26

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

DR. WILBUR M. SMITH, editor and commentator of Pel- liver's Select Notes, writes that the classes of both younger and older pupils might begin the study of this lesson "by an approach we have used before.

Our lesson concerns three trials

of the Apostle Paul before Roman officials. Men and women can be brought to trial for so many different reasons. We generally think of trials that concern assault upon the body, or the destruction of property, or forms of theft such as embezzlement, robbery, etc.

"But there are also laws concerning not so much a person's acts and deeds, as his very words and thoughts. It is when a man speaks falsely, and thereby, hurts another's character that he can be sued for libel.

"We even have laws on our books concerning the use of the Lord's name in cursing, called laws of blasphemy. In earlier days there were laws of heresy that were enforced. Today, however, no man in this country can ever be accused in court because of any religious views he holds. Paul is not up for trial because he has physically hurt anyone, or taken what is not his, or stirred up form of food and clothing for the poor of his nation.—Acts 24:10-18.

The governor, Felix, was "a man of indecision," writes Dr.
Smith. "So he postponed rendering a verdict, with the expectation that he would wait for further information until the chief captain himself came to Caesarea. In the meantime Paul was given great liberty in moving about the city, though he was not to be entirely set free."

Felix, we are told, was hoping to get money from Paul so that he could release him. Paul also preached a magnificent sermon, which is too long to be quoted here, but the teachers can read it and impart as much of it to the pupils as they can understand and appreciate. Felix's wife, Drusilla, had come with Felix. She was a Jewess and they sent for Paul "and heard him concerning the faith in Christ."—Acts 24:24.

When Paul in his sermon talked of "righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come,
Felix trembled and answered, go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee."—Acts 24:25-26.

When Festus came the Jews told him of Paul and asked that power, and of love, and of a sound mind."—1st Timothy 1:7.

Rebellion against the Roman government. He has been accused by the Jews for preaching and teaching doctrines contrary to the Jewish faith. The charge was not true, but the Roman government must adjudicate in this case, and it took a long time for these trials, though he proved himself innocent after each one.

Five days after Paul's return from Jerusalem, "Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus . . . who began to accuse him," saying that he was "a pestilent fellow,
and a mover of sedition among
all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes: Who also hath gone about to profane the temple; whom we took, and would have judged according to our law."—Acts 24:1-6.

"Paul easily disproved these false charges," writes Dr. Smith.
He said in his own defense that he had not gone to the temple
to profane but to worship, that he had not been "disputing with
any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogue nor in the city: Neither can they prove the things
whereof they now accuse me."

He also said that he came to Jerusalem to bring help in the name of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, as he had been commanded by the Lord. He said that he was still held in bonds, as he had appealed to Caesar.

The verdict? Paul was found
"not worthy of death," but he was still held in bonds, as he had appealed to Caesar.

he sent to Jerusalem, where there were men waiting to kill him, but Festus answered that Paul should be kept in Caesarea and that he would go there also.
Then the Jews came down from Jerusalem and "laid many and grievous complaints against Paul," but Paul answered, "Neither against the temple, nor yet against Caesar have I offended any thing at all."—Acts 25:1-8.

Willing to do the Jews pleasure, Festus asked him if he would go to Jerusalem and be judged there.

But Paul said: "I stand at Caesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged; to the Jews I have done no wrong, as thou very well knowest."—Acts 25:9-10.

When the great king, Agrippa, came and heard Paul preach, he at first accused him of being mad, as Paul had told him of his vision of Christ commanding him to teach and preach.
Then Agrippa told Paul, "Almost thou persuadest me to become a Christian." Paul answered that he wished Agrippa and all the world would hear of Christ and worship.—Acts 26.

The verdict? Paul was found
"not worthy of death," but he was still held in bonds, as he had appealed to Caesar.

LADY CAGERS — Here are the famed Arkansas Travelers, slated for a basketball game here March 17 with a Circleville High School faculty men's team. The noted girl performers are owned and coached by Hazel Walker, 11 times an All-American in female circles. On the floor the team is spearheaded by Frances "Goose" Garrouette who averages 40-45 points per game against male opponents.

Fifth Leg of HTA Trot Set At Scioto Downs on Sept. 2

Expresson without the "i" in her name, has her "eye's" on the rich HTA Trot, scheduled for opening day of MARRA (Mid - America Racing Association) at Scioto Downs September 2. MARRA at Scioto Downs is the fifth leg on the rich touring trotting series sponsored by the Harness Tracks of America.

Expresson, owned by L. E. Lake of Colfax, Ind., heads a field of 23 four - year - old trotters eligible to the trotting series. Trained and driven by Frank Ervin, Expresson became the fastest three - year - old trotting filly in the sport last year when she trotted to a mile in 1:58 in a time trial at Lexington, Ky.

MARRA president, John J. Chestner, said the trotting series will be contested at seven member tracks of the HTA, and will conclude with a $50,000 at Roosevelt Raceway September 24. In order for the trotters to be eligible for the final they must have started at three of the member tracks.

Billy Houghton, the nation's leading money winning driver for the past six years, has two eligible in Circo and Hickory Pride. Circo, owned by the Ruderman Stable of Gouverneur, N. Y., posted a record of 1:59 3-5, while earning more than $146,000. Stablemate Hickory Pride, owned by Bowman Brown of Harrisburg, Pa., posted a record of 2:01 2-5.

SARA BLACK, the only two minute trotting daughter of Adios, became eligible when her owner, J. H. Black of Sea View, Va., made the 1500 payment.

The Silk, who finished second to the great Diller Hanover in the Hambletonian last year, was made eligible by his new owner, The Miron Stable of Bayard Florida.

The Hayes Fair Acre stable of Du Quoin, Ill., entered stablemates Rodney Pick and Mortal Lock.

Outstanding Ohio eligibles to the HTA Trot are Lord Chutney, with a record of 2:03 2-5, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, and Pioneer with a record of 2:01 1-5, owned by the Saunders Mills Stable of Perysburg. Damon Baker's Belle Aire Farm of Washington C. H., O., entered Little Frank, the big bay son of Averill.

Gib White, son of the late great driver Ben White, plans to return to Scioto Downs in the HTA Trot with Rodare, the bay gelding son of Rodney.

Joe O'Brien, leading driver on the Grand Circuit for the past two years, plans to be on hand with an entry from the S.A. Camp Farm Stable of Shafter, Calif. He is Bor-gue Hanover, a brown son of Hoot Mon.

OTHER outstanding eligibles to the MARRA at Scioto Downs leg of the HTA Trot which carries an estimated purse of $7,500, include Solid Choice, Air Record from the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Spike Hanover and John A. Hanover.

The list of eligibles to the 1960 HTA Trot are listed here with their lifetime record, 1959 starts, wins, seconds and thirds, lifetime earnings and their owners.

The trailer may also be exhibited at Great Lakes port cities in other states.

Bucks Favored By 11½ Points

Ohio U Is Underdog In Georgia Tech Tilt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ohio State rates a heavy favorite over Western Kentucky in tonight's semifinals of the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball tournament.

Professional oddsmakers made the Ohio Valley Conference champions an 11½-point underdog to the Big Ten kings.

They also gave Georgia Tech Southeastern Conference representative, a 3½-point nod over Ohio University, the Mid-American Conference winner.

The Yellow Jackets and Ohio U. meet at 8:30 p. m. (EST); Western and Ohio follow at 10:30 p.m.

Tonight's winners play at 10 p.m. Saturday for a berth in the NCAA finals at San Francisco March 18-19.

Ohio State ranks third in the nation and has a 21-3 record. It is paced by All-America Jerry Lucas, who hit 64 per cent of his field shots this season.

Western (20-6) has shown giant-killing tendencies. It disposed of 10th-ranked Miami, Fla., 107-84 in the first round at Lexington Tuesday night.

Western and Ohio State favor a run-and-shoot strategy, both are strong in rebounding and both are big and fast.

The Hilltoppers' 6-8 sophomore Harry Todd has drawn the assignment of guarding Lucas.

Georgia Tech (21-5) is representing the SEC because champion Auburn is banned from NCAA post season games.

The game shapes up as Tech's defense, savvy and 1-2 punch of Roger Kaiser and Dave Denton against Ohio U.'s speed, Larry Kruger's sniping and Howard Joliff's rebounding.

The surprising Bobcats, with a 17-6 season mark, are described by their coach, Jim Snyder, as "a bunch of farm boys who don't know when to quit."

Wyoming quarterback Jim Walden set a new Skyline Conference career record in average gain per play. In two seasons Walden had an average of 6.57 yards per play.

where he "summoned" his friend to join him for a pleasant bowling season.

Oddities Only Dime a Dozen On High School Hardwood

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Oddities were a dime a dozen on Ohio's high school basketball courts this season—just as you'd expect with 993 teams playing some 10,000 games.

Officials, players and coaches were involved in the sunny situations.

Take Mike Saylor of Ross Twp. in Butler County. The game with Hamilton Catholic was tied at 54-54, with less than a minute to go. Saylor was fouled, with a one-and-one situation on tap. Mike stepped up to the free throw line and fainted.

But he revived, bravely sank both free tosses, and then 10 seconds before the end made a two-pointer for a 58-54 conquest.

Jerry Booher of Dayton Wilbur Wright wasn't so lucky. He scored 33 points, one shy of the Gem City record, against Dayton Roth—but missed a lary layout with four seconds to go. The miss cost him the record—and allowed Roth to win 67-66.

Scott Sorensen of Fairmont, with the score tied, deflected a Piqua pass into the Piqua basket, giving the Indians a two - point edge they held to the finish.

Gustavus of Trumbull County ended a four-year 59-game losing streak by beating Bloomfield 52-46—then lost 93-68 to the same team the next week. Buckland of Auglaize County broke its 50-game losing stretch, and Vaughnsville of Putnam racked up 37 losses in a row before hitting the right side.

But Newcomerstown is still going, with 42 defeats in a row over a three-year span. When the club lost its 17th of the year, 80-49 to Uhrichsville, Coach Ted Martin dropped eight players from his squad—and also the next two games.

Chauncey-Dover lost 15 straight this year. The Athens County Club had one chance to win, but confused youngster from Chauncey tossed a two-pointer into Murray City's basket and the latter won 54-51. Had he made it in his own bucket, Chauncey - Dover would have won 53-52.

In the Pickaway County tourney, Darby Twp. led Salter Creek Twp. 66-33 with less than seven minutes to go. Coach Wayne Evans of Salter Creek sent in an all-freshman set of reserves, and the kids scored 40 points. It was a last cause as Darby won 80-73, but it was the year's biggest all-freshman spree. None of the five reserves is over 5-foot-10.

Cleveland East Tech, Class AA champ the last two years and boasting a .51 - game winning streak, put on a fancy "dunking" drill before the opener with Cleveland Collinwood. So enthusiastic was the dunking that the Scarabs bent the basket and repairs were necessary. Then Collinwood won 49-40.

And the Cardington - Sparta game was delayed until a welding outfit could be found. One of the boys, trying to dunk the ball in the third period, hit the rim and snapped the metal bracket—dropping the hoop to the floor.

Marietta St. Mary led Vincent 13-0 at the end of the first quarter in the Washington County tournament. Vincent turned the tables in the second, and they were tied 13-13 at the half—Vincent finally winning by two points.

John Colmery, Columbus South coach, said: "We had so much influenza and injury trouble that only one week did our better boys practice and play. But the payoff came when Ken Kerns, our quietest boy who doesn't even speak when pinched, got laryngitis."

Coach G. D. Shoup, who led Edgerton to the 1959 Class A title, said he was officiating a game this year when his partner made a call which displeased players and coach of one team. When they protested, Shoup insists his brother official retorted: "I saw 'em call it that way on TV Saturday."

At the Newark - at - Coshocton game, the referee (from Mansfield) brought his French poodle along, locking it in the dressing room. But someone liberated the pooch, which raced out to his master in midfloor, disrupting the contest. The official called time, put the dog back in the dressing room, and returned.

We drop the curtain here—to shut off the obvious remarks he heard from the fans on all calls from there on.

Country Club Work Contracts Awarded at Cost of $15,000

Contracts for remodeling and expanding the club house at Pickaway Country Club were awarded last night by the club's board of directors.

The project, to cost approximately $15,000, includes enlarging the basement to provide for a men's locker room, a shower room and pro shop, with a patio on the first floor level.

Contracts were awarded to George Myers, for general construction; Kenneth Wilson, for heating and plumbing, and to Loveless Electric, for the electrical work. Not included in the work are furnishings or decorations.

Completion date has been set for July 1.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The "prescription" wasn't in the traditional Latin but druggist Thomas H. Garnett got the message.

A man handed him a note which read "This is a stickup." "Now," said the robber, "fill that prescription."

Garnett handed over the money in a cash register and presumably the patient felt better immediately.

"When the guys come back to the bench after batting, they say he has something," Murtaugh added.

Gibson posted a 16-9 record at Columbus last season.

Ohio's Tournament Trail Continues To Take Big Toll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three of Ohio's classiest high school Class AA cage teams wheeled into the Northeastern District tournament finals Thursday night, and each needs one more win to gain a regional berth.

Cleveland East Tech, champion of the big schools the last two seasons and rated No. 2 in the final Associated Press poll behind Dayton Roosevelt, was a convincing 54-38 winner over Brecksville at Bedford. Each went into the fray with an 18-1 record.

The champs must get by Cleveland St. Ignatius (19-2) in Saturday's finals for a spot in the four-team Kent Regional next week. Canton Timken ran its record to 21-0 as the third-ranked squad (20-2) at Canton. Timken meets Massillon (17-5) Saturday night, with the victor moving into the Columbus Regional.

Lakewood, eighth-ranked, bested Midview 69-53 at Berea for a 19-2 record, and goes against Elyria (19-3) in Saturday's finals, with a Toledo Regional spot hanging on the outcome.

The night's big victim was Marietta, ranked fifth in the final poll. The Marietta club, which had an 18-2 mark, was nosed out 76-75 by Portsmouth as the Trojans ran their record to 17-4.

Most of the other hot-shots see action tonight. Dayton Roosevelt (21-0) meets Dayton Xenia Central (15-6) at Dayton, and Xenia Central, fourth-ranked and 21-0, clashes with Dayton Belmont in the other semifinal scrap. Should Roosevelt and Xenia win, Saturday's final for a Cincinnati Regional berth would send the first and fourth teams in the state, each with a 22-0 record, against each other.

Toledo Scott, seventh, puts its 18-2 record on the line against Van Wert (14-2) at Toledo. The victor meets the winner of the Archbold (19-0)-Toledo Libbey (16-5) game in Saturday's finals.

At Wellston, where heavy snow semifinals, the games were played Thursday night. Fairland eliminated Oak Hill 51-34, and Nelsonville ousted Hamden 73-55.

Newark's three-time Class AA state kings are still in the running at Columbus after nipping Columbus Linden 59-45. Grandview, an upset 50-49 victor over Washington Court House, meets the Wildcats Saturday for the regional berth.

Thursday night's games trimmed the 432-team Class AA contingent to 49 squads, and the 561-team Class A group to 46. Tonight's and Saturday's contests will cut each delegation to 16. The Class AA groups of four go to Columbus, Toledo, Kent and Cincinnati for next week's regionals, while the Class A squads play at Lima, Canton, Troy and Athens.

Griffith Favored
NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith, a pro less than two years, today was rated a surprising 9-5 favorite over Denny Moyer, a West Coast youngster who fought and lost in a welterweight title fight.

The two well - regarded 147-pounders clash in the 10-round radio-television (NBC 10 p.m., EST) feature at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Kennel Club Sets All-Breed Show
The Central Ohio Kennel Club will hold its 17th Annual All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial April 24 at Veterans Memorial in Columbus. Entries will be closed April 12th.

Fifth Leg of HTA Trot Set At Scioto Downs on Sept. 2

Expression without the "i" in her name, has her "eye's" on the rich HTA Trot, scheduled for opening day of M.A.R.A. (Mid-America Racing Association) at Scioto Downs September 2. M.A.R.A. at Scioto Downs is the fifth leg on the rich touring trotting series sponsored by the Harness Tracks of America.

Expression, owned by L. E. Lake of Colfax, Ind., heads a field of 23 four-year-old trotters eligible to the trotting series. Trained and driven by Frank Ervin, Expression became the fastest three-year-old trotting filly in the sport last year when she trotted to a mile in 1:58 in a time trial at Lexington, Ky.

M.A.R.A. president, John J. Chester, said the trotting series will be contested at seven member tracks of the HTA, and will conclude with a $50,000 at Roosevelt Raceway September 24. In order for the trotters to be eligible for the final they must have started at three of the member tracks.

Billy Houghton, the nation's leading money winning driver for the past six years, has two eligible in Circo and Hickory Pride. Circo, owned by the Ruderman Stable of Gouverneur, N. Y., posted a record of 1:59 3/5, while earning more than $146,000. Stablemate Hickory Pride, owned by Bowman Brown of Harrisburg, Pa., posted a record of 2:01 2/5.

SARA BLACK, the only two-minute trotting daughter of Adios, became eligible when her owner, J. H. Black of Sea View, Va., made the 1500 payment.

The Silk, who finished second to the great Diller Hanover in the Hambletonian last year, was made eligible by his new owner, The Miron Stable of Bayard Florida.

The Hayes Fair Acre stable of Du Quoin, Ill., entered stablemates Rodney Pick and Mortal Lock.

Outstanding Ohio eligibles to the HTA Trot are Lord Chutney, with a record of 2:03 2/5, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, and Pioneer with a record of 2:01 1/5, owned by the Saunders Mills Stable of Perrysburg. Damon Baker's Belle Aire Farm of Washington, C. H., O., entered Little Frank, the big bay son of Averill.

Gib White, son of the late great driver Ben White, plans to return to Scioto Downs in the HTA Trot with Rodare, the bay gelding son of Rodney.

Joe O'Brien, leading driver on the Grand Circuit for the past two years, plans to be on hand with an entry from the S.A. Camp Farm Stable of Shafter, Calif. He is Bor-

gue Hanover, a brown son of Hoot Mon.

OTHER outstanding eligibles to the M.A.R.A. at Scioto Downs leg of the HTA Trot which carries an estimated purse of $7,500, include Solid Choice, Air Record from the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Spike Hanover and John A. Hanover.

The list of eligibles to the 1960 HTA Trot are listed here with their lifetime record, 1959 starts, wins, seconds and thirds, lifetime earnings and their owners.

Bucks Favored By 11½ Points

Ohio U Is Underdog In Georgia Tech Tilt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Ohio State rates a heavy favorite over Western Kentucky in tonight's semifinals of the NCAA Midwest Regional basketball tournament.

Professional oddsmakers made the Ohio Valley Conference champions an 11½-point underdog to the Big Ten kings.

They also gave Georgia Tech Southeastern Conference representative, a 3½-point nod over Ohio University, the Mid-American Conference winner.

The Yellow Jackets and Ohio U. meet at 8:30 p. m. (EST); Western and Ohio follow at 10:30 p. m.

Tonight's winners play at 10 p. m. Saturday for a berth in the NCAA finals at San Francisco March 18-19.

Ohio State ranks third in the nation and has a 21-3 record. It is paced by All-America Jerry Lucas, who hit 64 per cent of his field shots this season.

Western (20-6) has shown giant-killing tendencies. It disposed of 10th-ranked Miami, Fla., 107-84 in the first round at Lexington Tuesday night.

Western and Ohio State favor a run-and-shoot strategy, both are strong in rebounding and both are big and fast.

The Hilltoppers' 6-8 sophomore Harry Todd has drawn the assignment of guarding Lucas.

Georgia Tech (21-5) is representing the SEC because champion Auburn is banned from NCAA post season games.

The game shapes up as Tech's defense, savvy and 1-2 punch of Roger Kaiser and Dave Denton against Ohio U.'s speed, Larry Kruger's sniping and Howard Joliff's rebounding.

The surprising Bobcats, with a 17-6 season mark, are described by their coach, Jim Snyder, as "a bunch of farm boys who don't know when to quit."

Wyoming quarterback Jim Walden set a new Skyline Conference career record in average gain per play. In two seasons Walden had an average of 6.37 yards per play.

Ohio's Tournament Trail Continues To Take Big Toll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Three of Ohio's classiest high school Class AA cage teams wheeled into the Northeastern District tournament finals Thursday night, and each needs one more win to gain a regional berth.

Cleveland East Tech, champion of the big schools the last two seasons and rated No. 2 in the final Associated Press poll behind Dayton Roosevelt, was a convincing 54-38 winner over Brecksville at Bedford. Each went into the fray with an 18-1 record.

The champs must get by Cleveland St. Ignatius (19-2) in Saturday's finals for a spot in the four-team Kent Regional next week.

Canton Timken ran its record to 21-0 as the third-ranked squad (20-2) at Canton. Timken meets Massillon (17-5) Saturday night, with the victor moving into the Columbus Regional.

Lakewood, eighth-ranked, bested Midview 69-53 at Berea for a 19-2 record, and goes against Elyria (19-3) in Saturday's finals, with a Toledo Regional spot hanging on the outcome.

The night's big victim was Marietta, ranked fifth in the final poll. The Marietta club, which had an 18-2 mark, was nosed out 76-75 by Portsmouth as the Trojans ran their record to 17-4.

Most of the other hot-shots see action tonight. Dayton Roosevelt (21-0) meets Dayton Fairview (15-6) at Dayton, and Xenia Central, fourth-ranked and 21-0, clashes with Dayton Belmont in the other semifinal scrap. Should Roosevelt and Xenia win, Saturday's final for a Cincinnati Regional berth would send the first and fourth teams in the state, each with a 22-0 record, against each other.

Toledo Scott, seventh, puts its 18-2 record on the line against Van Wert (14-2) at Toledo. The victor meets the winner of the Archbold (19-0)-Toledo Libbey (16-5) game in Saturday's finals.

At Wellston, where heavy snow semi-finals, the games were played Thursday night. Fairland eliminated Oak Hill 51-34, and Nelsonville ousted Hamden 73-55.

Newark's three-time Class AA state kings are still in the running at Columbus after nipping Columbus Linden 59-45. Grandview, an upset 50-49 victor over Washington Court House, meets the Wildcats Saturday for the regional berth.

Thursday night's games trimmed the 432-team Class AA contingent to 49 squads, and the 561-team Class A group to 46. Tonight's and Saturday's contests will cut each delegation to 16. The Class AA groups of four go to Columbus, Toledo, Kent and Cincinnati for next week's regionals, while the Class A squads play at Lima, Canton, Troy and Athens.

Paul Teegardin Chairman for Local Roundup

Paul Teegardin, Oakwood Stock Farm, Ashville, will serve as chairman for one of four district Roundups being sponsored by the Ohio Shorthorn Breeders Assn., the Ohio Polled Shorthorn Assn. and the Ohio Shorthorn Lassies.

Teegardin's Roundup, representing district No. 3, will be held March 21 starting at 7:30 p. m. at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum. The Roundups will feature the Fifth Annual Ohio Short-horn Week.

Other Roundups for the week are: March 22 — District No. 4, Madison Grange, near Wooster; March 23 — District No. 1, Brown's Restaurant, Wapakoneta; March 24 — District No. 2, Court House Auditorium, Lebanon.

County agents, associate county agents, vo-ag instructors, 4-H and FFA members and other interested juniors are invited to the district roundups.

Kennel Club Sets All-Breed Show

The Central Ohio Kennel Club will hold its 17th Annual All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial April 24 at Veterans Memorial in Columbus. Entries will be closed April 12th.

Entry forms and additional information may be obtained by writing Mrs. Evelyn Rolfe, 26 Hutchinson Drive, Worthington, Ohio.

The show is sanctioned by the American Kennel Club with AKC Rules in force. It is open for entrants in six classes, including sporting, hound, working, terrier, toy and non-sporting.

Griffith Favored

NEW YORK (AP)—Emile Griffith, a pro less than two years, today was rated a surprising 9-5 favorite over Denny Moyer, a West Coast youngster who fought and lost in a welterweight title fight.

The two well-regarded 147-pounders clash in the 10-round radio-television (NBC 10 p. m., EST) feature at Madison Square Garden tonight.

NCAA Regional Playoffs Due In 4 Cities

California Poised For Defense of Its National Cage Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
California takes another step in defense of its NCAA basketball crown in Seattle, tonight but 15 other teams coveting the same title present their credentials as the regional playoffs begin in four cities.

Cal, ranked second nationally with a 25-1 record, meets Santa Clara (21-8), the West Coast Athletic Conference representative, in the first game of a doubleheader. At-large entry Oregon (18-9) plays sixth ranked Utah (25-2), the Skyline Conference champ, in the nightcap.

Cal's biggest threats for a second straight title—top-ranked Cincinnati and fifth-ranked West Virginia — also will be at work in Manhattan, Kan. and Charlotte, N.C., respectively, in trying to reach next week's finals at San Francisco. Tonight's winners meet Saturday night for the regional titles.

The NCAA small college title is on the line at Evansville, Ind., tonight with defending champion Evansville meeting Chapman (Calif.) College.

And the National Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. Tournament (NAIA) has its semifinals at Kansas City with three-time winner Tennessee A&I, Westminster (Pa.) Southwest Texas and William Jewell going for the finalist berths.

The National Invitational Tournament (NIT) in New York, is idle but picks up with afternoon-night doubleheaders Saturday which includes a quarter-final matinee game between second-seeded Utah State and Villanova on national television.

Villanova edged Detroit 88-86 and Providence College beat Memphis State 71-70 in first round games in the NIT Thursday night.

Each NCAA regional doubleheader will have a member of The Associated Press All-America on display, led by Cincy's Big O—Oscar Robertson at the Midwest regional at Manhattan.

Robertson takes the Bearcats against DePaul (16-6) in the second game of a doubleheader. Cincy, 25-1, is favored to win the NCAA title.

The other Midwest game pits Texas (18-6), the Southwestern Conference champ, against Kansas (19-8).
All-America Jerry West, with a 28.9 scoring mark, tops the show at Charlotte when his West Virginia Mountaineers meet high-flying New York Univ. (20-3) in the first game of an eastern regional doubleheader.

Big Ten champion Ohio State (21-3), and its All America soph Jerry Lucas play the nightcap of the Midwest regional at Louisville, Ky., against Ohio Valley Conference winner Western Kentucky (20-6). Ohio University (17-7) meets Southeastern Conference representative Georgia Tech (21-5) in the opener.

Evansville battled past bitter rival Kentucky Wesleyan 76-69 Thursday night and Chapman defeated Cornell (Iowa) in the NCAA small college semifinals.

In the NAIA quarter-finals, Tennessee A&I defeated Wofford 75-60, Westminster (Pa) won over Hamline 62-59, Southwest Texas beat Grambling, 76-68 and William Jewell edged past New Mexico Highlands 67-62.

Views on Television-Radio

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—We've had adult westerns, family westerns, satiric westerns, authentic westerns, even old fashioned western westerns.

Now comes Scott Brady, celebrated bad guy of the Broadway musical "Destiny," moseying into the crowded TV corral with the first of the westerns aimed at the foam on the range set.

As "Shotgun Slade," syndicated over 180 stations, mostly late in the evening, Brady has become the idol of viewers who prefer their cowboys uncomplicated and without complexes.

"Most of the sponsors are beer companies," explains Brady over a flagon of his patrons' wares. "In this one the good guy always wins, and the bad guy always loses, which is the way the average viewer likes it."

"Every week truth, the good guy, triumphs over evil, the bad guy, against a jazz background. The critics murdered it, but it sells beer. Who needs the critics, when you've got truth on your side?"

Eileen Brennan, the little ray of Celtic sunshine who lights up off-Broadway's hit musical "Little Mary Sunshine," makes her TV bow on the Ed Sullivan show Sunday night. Keeping with the St. Patrick's Day theme, she'll sing "How Are Things in Glocca Morra," a change of pace from her nightly spoof of the operettas of Victor Herbert and Rudolf Friml.

The talented, pretty newcomer is understandably awed by her sudden transition from the never-never land of period piece musicals to the never-never land of her first TV rehearsal.

"I was so nervous I went to the wrong studio and got to the rehearsal late," she describes her initial introduction to the medium. "Sullivan wasn't there. Neither was the director. There was no orchestra, just a piano. Everybody was running around, but nobody seemed worried. They asked me if I brought my own arrangement. I hadn't. They said they'd get me one. In the meantime, I just sang from the sheet music I'd purchased 10 minutes before. They said it was too long, and it would have to be cut. That was it. Everybody was so nonchalant, I forgot about being nervous and just wound up confused."

Recommended Tonight: "Main Street, U.S.A.," NBC, 8:30-9:30, with musical comedy stars Howard Keel, Carol Lawrence and Eddie Hodges; "Person to Person," CBS, 10:30-11, taped interviews with Anne Bancroft in her Greenwich Village pad and Italian movie star Vittorio Gassman in his Roman villa.

Cynthia Lowry who regularly writes this column is ill.

Hardy Stars In Indian Squad Game

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Carroll Hardy took most-valuable-player honors in the Cleveland Indians' three-game intrasquad series that ended here Thursday with Red Kress' Apaches overcoming Jo-Jo White's Pimas 10-7 for the championship.

Outfielder Hardy rapped five singles and two doubles in 12 times at bat, scored six runs and stole a base to supplement his standout defensive playing for the Apache champs.

Slugging star Norm Cash was a close second. He drove in seven runs in the three games with a homer, triple and two doubles. But he left something to be desired at first base.

Bob Lemon, now on the Indians' coaching staff, hurled two hitless innings for the Apaches Thursday. Lemon was the only one of 24 pitchers to hurl hitless ball in the series.

He left the field amid a round of applause from about 1,500 spectators.

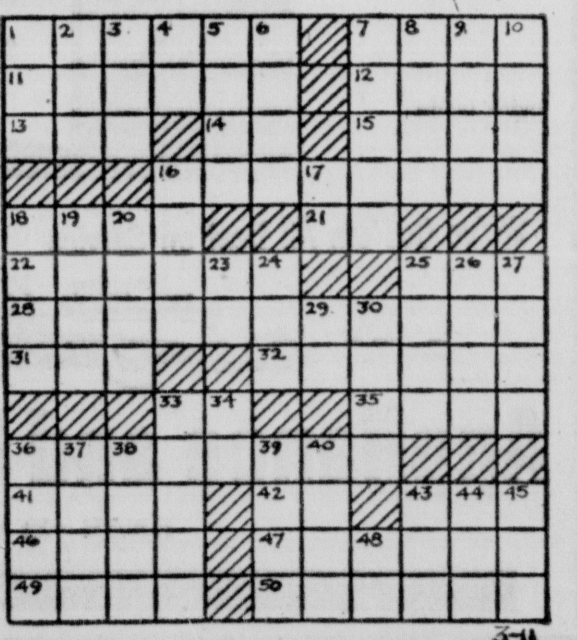

Lemon developed a sore arm in 1957 and underwent an operation for the removal of bone chips in his elbow last fall. His arm was still weak the following spring.

In a comeback attempt last spring, Lemon decided to "hang 'em up" and was appointed to Manager Joe Gordon's coaching staff.

NCAA Regional Playoffs Due In 4 Cities

California Poised For Defense of Its National Coge Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
California takes another step in defense of its NCAA basketball crown in Seattle, tonight but 15 other teams coveting the same title present their credentials as the regional playoffs begin in four cities.

Cal, ranked second nationally with a 25-1 record, meets Santa Clara (21-8), the West Coast Athletic Conference representative, in the first game of a doubleheader. At-large entry Oregon (18-9) plays sixth ranked Utah (23-2), the Skyline Conference champ, in the nightcap.

Cal's biggest threats for a second straight title—top-ranked Cincinnati and fifth-ranked West Virginia—also will be at work in Manhattan, Kan. and Charlotte, N.C., respectively, in trying to reach next week's finals at San Francisco. Tonight's winners meet Saturday night for the regional titles.

The NCAA small college title is on the line at Evansville, Ind., tonight with defending champion Evansville meeting Chapman (Calif.) College.

And the National Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. Tournament (NAIA) has its semifinals at Kansas City with three-time winner Tennessee A&I, Westminster (Pa.) Southwest Texas and William Jewell going for the finalist berths.

The National Invitational Tournament (NIT) in New York, is idle but picks up with afternoon-night doubleheaders Saturday which includes a quarter-final matinee game between second-seeded Utah State and Villanova on national television.

Villanova edged Detroit 88-86 and Providence College beat Memphis State 71-70 in first round games in the NIT Thursday night.

Each NCAA regional doubleheader will have a member of The Associated Press All-America on display, led by Cincy's Big O—Oscar Robertson at the Midwest regional at Manhattan.

Robertson takes the Bearcats against DePaul (16-6) in the second game of a doubleheader. Cincy, 25-1, is favored to win the NCAA title.

The other Midwest game pits Texas (18-6), the Southwestern Conference champ, against Kansas (19-8).

All-America Jerry West, with a 28.9 scoring mark, tops the show at Charlotte when his West Virginia Mountaineers meet high-flying New York Univ. (20-3) in the first game of an eastern regional doubleheader.

Big Ten champion Ohio State (21-3), and its All-America soph Jerry Lucas play the nightcap of the Midwest regional at Louisville, Ky., against Ohio Valley Conference winner Western Kentucky (20-6). Ohio University (17-7) meets Southeastern Conference representative Georgia Tech (21-5) in the opener.

Evansville battled past bitter rival Kentucky Wesleyan 76-69 Thursday night and Chapman defeated Cornell (Iowa) in the NCAA small college semifinals.

In the NAIA quarter-finals, Tennessee A&I defeated Wofford 75-60, Westminster (Pa.) won over Hamline 62-59, Southwest Texas beat Grambling, 76-68 and William Jewell edged past New Mexico Highlands 67-62.

Views on Television-Radio

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—We've had adult westerns, family westerns, satiric westerns, authentic westerns, even old fashioned western westerns.

Now comes Scott Brady, celebrated bad guy of the Broadway musical "Destiny," moseying into the crowded TV corral with the first of the westerns aimed at the foam on the range set.

As "Shotgun Slade," syndicated over 180 stations, mostly late in the evening, Brady has become the idol of viewers who prefer their cowboys uncomplicated and without complexes.

"Most of the sponsors are beer companies," explains Brady over a flagon of his patrons' wares. "In this one the good guy always wins, and the bad guy always loses, which is the way the average viewer likes it."

"Every week truth, the good guy, triumphs over evil, the bad guy, against a jazz background. The critics murdered it, but it sells beer. Who needs the critics, when you've got truth on your side?"

Eileen Brennan, the little ray of Celtic sunshine who lights up off-Broadway's hit musical "Little Mary Sunshine," makes her TV bow on the Ed Sullivan show Sunday night. Keeping with the St. Patrick's Day theme, she'll sing "How Are Things in Glocca Morra," a change of pace from her nightly spoof of the operettas of Victor Herbert and Rudolf Friml.

The talented, pretty newcomer is understandably awed by her sudden transition from the never-never land of period piece musicals to the never-never land of her first TV rehearsal.

"I was so nervous I went to the wrong studio and got to the rehearsal late," she describes her initial introduction to the medium. "Sullivan wasn't there. Neither was the director. There was no orchestra, just a piano. Everybody was running around, but nobody seemed worried. They asked me if I brought my own arrangement. I hadn't. They said they'd get me one. In the meantime, I just sang from the sheet music. I'd purchased 10 minutes before. They said it was too long, and it would have to be cut. That was it. Everybody was so nonchalant. I forgot about being nervous and just wound up confused."

Recommended Tonight: "Main Street, U.S.A.," NBC, 8:30-9:30, with musical comedy stars Howard Keel, Carol Lawrence and Eddie Hodges; "Person to Person," CBS, 10:30-11, taped interviews with Anne Bancroft in her Greenwich Village pad and Italian movie star Vittorio Gassman in his Roman villa.

Hardy Stars In Indian Squad Game

TUCSON, ARIZ. (AP)—Carroll Hardy took most-valuable-player honors in the Cleveland Indians' three-game intrasquad series that ended here Thursday with Red Kress' Apaches overcoming Jo-Jo White's Finns 10-7 for the championship.

Outfielder Hardy rapped five singles and two doubles in 12 times at bat, scored six runs and stole a base to supplement his standout defensive playing for the Apaches champs.

Slugging star Norm Cash was a close second. He drove in seven runs in the three games with a homer, triple and two doubles. But he left something to be desired at first base.

Bob Lemon, now on the Indians' coaching staff, hurled two hitless innings for the Apaches Thursday. Lemon was the only one of 24 pitchers to hurl hitless ball in the series.

He left the field amid a round of applause from about 1,500 spectators.

Lemon developed a sore arm in 1957 and underwent an operation for the removal of bone chips in his elbow last fall. His arm was still weak the following spring.

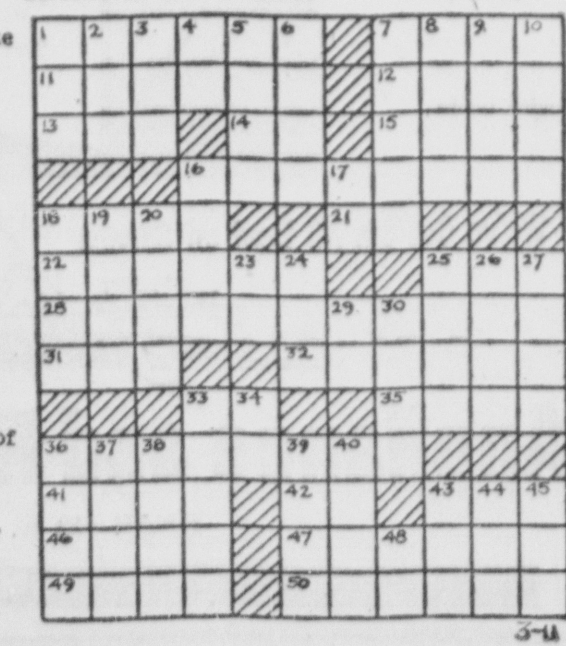

In a comeback attempt last spring, Lemon decided to "hang 'em up" and was appointed to Manager Joe Gordon's coaching staff.

Warm Trend Could Cause Spring Floods

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today the snows which have piled up along the Eastern seaboard in the past 10 days pose no serious flood threat at this time.

However, forecasters said any blast of warm air accompanied by two or three days of warm rain would change the outlook considerably.

"At the moment" one meteorologist said, "it looks like more snow instead of warm rain." The recent snow storms have left up to 50 inches of snow on the ground at some points in the Appalachian Mountains. This is the case at the headwaters of the Potomac River.

If all this now were to melt quickly, weather experts said, the rivers along the eastern slopes of the Appalachians probably would overflow their banks.

Meteorologists figure that 10 inches of snow is roughly equivalent to one inch of rain. The big cover of snow at the source of the Potomac therefore is equal to about five inches of rain—enough to cause flooding if it moved down the valley in a single torrent.
